New Behavioral Health Building Open House planned for Dec. 16

I imagine some of you have seen the construction going on in the field between the Recovery House (on 180th Ave SE) and the Wellness Center, and were wondering what it was. It's the new 10,000-square foot Behavioral Health Building, and you can take a tour of it if you join us at our Open House from 2:00-6:00 PM on Thursday, December 16!

We've already outgrown the BH located within the Health and Wellness Center. Actually, I see this as good news: It means that our people, of all ages, are utilizing the Behavioral Health services available and that our community has a very strong desire to get well.

It was determined that it would not be cost-effective to do an add-on to the HWC building, since it would require extensive and costly structural modifications, so the new building was approved and constructed.

The new BH building has 20 counselor offices! This should hold us for awhile. The new building also has a large groups room located off from the main lobby that can be divided into two smaller group rooms.

Once staff move to the new building, our plans are to utilize the current BH offices/area to focus on meeting the BH-related unmet needs for Youth and Families. We know that are youth desperately in need of substance abuse and mental health services. So, we've actually tripled our BH space with the new building!

If you have time on Thursday, December 16th 2:00 to 6:00 pm, please drop by and see the new building.

Thank you. Lisa James Health Division Director

American Indian Film Festival

Donna Starr and grandson Harvey are interviewed at the film festival.

The Muckleshoot Tribe joined other major tribes such as the Seminoles of Florida and California's San Manuel Band in sponsoring the 35th Annual American Indian Film Festival in San Francisco November 5-13, 2010. The tribe has screened several of its own films there, including Pulling Together, Gathering Together and Muckleshoot: A People and Their Language.

This year's festival included a wide array of films, from documentaries to animated shorts, but much of the buzz surrounded the special guests. Dennis Banks, co-founder of the American Indian Movement (AIM) was there to screen a film about his life called A Good Day to Die, which won the award for Best Documentary. Also in attendance was legendary singersongwriter Buffy Ste. Marie, whose life was also depicted on the silver

Ms. Ste. Marie also received the Eagle Spirit Award, which is the AIFF's lifetime achievement award. Other honorees were Eloise Cobell, who initiated the massive lawsuit against the federal government for breach of its trust responsibilities, and the Northwest's own Billy Frank Jr., Fish War veteran and longtime head of the NW Indian Fisheries Commission.

Donna and Harvey Starr were there to represent the tribe. Donna took along her drum - the one made by Jocelyn Elkins - and sang the "Oosh-Oosh Song" at the Saturday luncheon. (More photos on page 5)

Casino Honors 15-Year Employees

"It's your hard work that has helped us to have these things," Tribal Council Chair Virginia Cross said as she ticked off the Tribe's many recent achievements – the new Tribal School, Health and Wellness Center, scholarships for all who want to learn, and much, much more.

"I'd like to thank you for the jobs that you've done," she told the 92 employees that the huge crowd had gathered to honor for their 15 years of service to the Muckleshoot Casino.

"These individuals have contributed tremendously to the success of the Casino, and have provided countless positive experiences for our patrons as well as for their coworkers," General Manager Darryl Blackburn added.

The appreciation was amply shown in the grand decorations perhaps the finest ever seen at the casino, which included an 18 x 24inch photo of each employee.

"Who knows where we'll be in another 15 years," Virginia concluded with a smile. "Maybe we'll own the City of Seattle!" (Photos on page 16)

Muckleshoot Mom Follows Her Passion, Lives Her Dream

My Family's Mission To Save the Dolphins

By Luana Nelson-Davis

As I was swimming out into the cold bloody waters of The Cove in Taiji, Japan in early November, 2010 towards over 100 frantic screaming dolphins fighting for their lives, I reflected on how I got to be there in the first place.

It all seemed strangely surreal, considering I was surrounded by screaming dolphin trainers and butchers, angry animal rights activists, jostling television news crews, politicians, the Japanese Coast Guard with their boats and helicopter, federal detectives, local police, private security guards, and thugs hired by gangsters yelling at me with bullhorns from on top of the overlooking hill, in addition to my two baby sons sitting on the beach.

What brought me here was a combination of things. I have always loved the outdoors, enjoying the wonders of nature and the animals in it. I have always detested animal cruelty and people who pollute the environment. I have always looked up to the people who put their lives on the line and their money where their mouth is by dedicating themselves to fight for the defenseless trees in the forest, water in the ocean, and animals on the planet.

Ever since I have supported these types of movements and watched the television series "Whale Wars," I have admired Paul Watson, the founder of the Sea Shepherd Conservation Society. When I was in South Dakota, while on a road trip to visit the Wounded Knee Memorial, the Black Hills Powwow, Yellowstone Park, Devil;s Tower, Custer Battlefield, and the Crazy

Horse Monument, I learned that he was actually at Wounded Knee in 1973, serving as a medic for the American Indian Movement (AIM) while with Greenpeace at the time. A true eco-warrior.

It was not until this summer that I became truly involved, after watching a life-changing movie, THE COVE, which won the Academy Award Oscar in 2010 for Best Documentary Feature. The movie follows an elite team of activists, filmmakers and freedivers as they embark on a covert mission to penetrate a remote and hidden cove in Taiji, Japan, shining a light on a dark and deadly secret.

Utilizing state-of-the-art techniques, including hidden microphones and cameras in fake rocks, the team uncovers how this small seaside village serves as a horrifying microcosm of massive ecological crimes happening worldwide. The result is a provocative mix of investigative journalism, eco-adventure and arresting imagery, adding up to an unforgettable story that has inspired audiences worldwide to

The Cove exposes the slaughter of 23,000 dolphins every year, and how their meat, containing toxic levels of mercury, dioxin and PCBs, is being sold as food, often mislabeled as other types of meat.

Recently, Ric O'Barry of Earth Island Institute, a former elite Navy diver and trainer of the dolphin "Flipper," delivered to Tokyo a petition to stop the killing signed by two million people from 151 countries. Ric, the star of the The Cove and a television series on Animal Planet called "Blood Dolphin$" has advocated for the ethical treatment

Tribal Gaming Decisions: The Regulatory Framework

The Muckleshoot Casino is not only a source of great pride for tribal members but is also the economic engine that has made possible the many projects and programs we have undertaken over the past decade.

The decisions the Tribal Council makes to keep the casino a first-class facility and operating in a way that benefits all tribal members are guided by a complex set of rules and regulations, especially the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act (IGRA) passed by Congress in 1988. This month's column describes, in general terms, the regulatory framework established by that act of congress and how it impacts the decisions we make.

In passing the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act the congress sought to "provide a statutory foundation for Indian gambling operations as a means of promoting economic development, self-sufficiency and strong tribal government."

The act confirmed the right of Indian Tribes to conduct gaming on Indian lands, established three classes of gaming and the statutory framework for the regulation of each class. The act provides for strict regulatory and gaming standards to assure the integrity of tribal gaming.

The act also required tribes to negotiate agreements with states to engage in casino-style gaming activities. The gaming compact between the Muckleshoot Tribe and State of Washington requires, among other things, that a portion of our gaming revenue be used to pay for local government impact fees, smoking cessation and problem gambling programs as well as contributing to Washington charities.

The National Indian Gaming Commission, an independent federal regulatory agency with the broad duty of exercising regulatory oversight of tribal gaming, was established by the IGRA. While this Commission is the only federal agency focused exclusively on the regulation of tribal gambling, the Washington State Gambling Commission and Muckleshoot Gaming Commission also exercise regulatory authority over casino operations.

The Muckleshoot Gaming Commission is the primary regulator for Indian gaming on the Muckleshoot Reservation and enforces the NIGC's Minimum Internal Controls, the Tribal-State compacts and all tribal laws in the

These regulatory agencies and the rules and regulations they establish help ensure the integrity of tribal gaming and that gaming proceeds are used for the betterment of the tribe and tribal members.

The IGRA requires that all net revenue derived from tribal gaming operations be spent on the general welfare of tribal members, tribal government operations or programs, tribal economic development, funding operations of local government agencies that provide services to the tribe and contributions to charitable organizations.

To ensure strict compliance with this federal requirement the Muckleshoot Tribal Council adopted a Revenue Allocation Plan that specifies how tribal gaming revenue is spent. That plan, reviewed and adopted by the Bureau of Indian Affairs, is the guide for all gaming revenue spending decisions we make on behalf of the tribe.

The Muckleshoot Tribe is also an active participant in the National Indian Gaming Association, an association of gaming tribes with the common mission of protecting and preserving the general welfare of tribes striving for self-sufficiency through gaming enterprises in Indian Country.

We work with NIGA to promote and advance sound policies and practices on gaming issues and through that to advance the lives of Indian peoples economically, socially and politically. In addition, we also work with the local affiliate, the Washington Indian Gaming Association on issues specific to the tribes in Washington State.

The Tribal Council takes very seriously its responsibility to make certain the casino is operated in compliance with all federal, state and tribal regulations. The casino is an important community asset and the council's oversight recognizes our responsibility to all tribal members.

Animal Angels Network remembers... Sandra, Jurich

Dhyan Story, President, Animal Angels Network: "Sandra was a caring and compassionate person who devoted her life to her elderly mother and giving/finding animals forever-homes. RIP in peace, my friend. You are missed!"

Sue Aagerup, Vice-President, Animal Angels Network: "Sandra was someone that I could always count on when needing assistance with either placement or any other kind of help with animals in need of care. She always went out of her way to assist in any way she could. I will miss her dearly, as will the Animal Angels."

Shannon Jurpik, Secretary, Animal Angels Network: "I met Sandra Jurich about three years ago. While I didn't really know her well then, she always had a smiling face, a sunny disposition and a cheerful "Hey You!" to everyone. What initially drew us together in the common bond that formed Animal Angels Network was that we both loved all the dogs outside the offices, and each of us had a houseful of pets at home as well. And we always laughed about the fact that we both had similar but unusual last names – Jurpik and Jurich.

Sandra was the most upbeat and sweetest person to me. She offered her friendship during the two LONG years of my husband's deployment to the Middle East. Sandra never failed to ask about him and how I was doing. She was a very loving and giving person, and I shall cherish the time I spent with her working together with the animals we both loved. Not only was she Animal Angel's treasurer, she was also a treasure to us and the animals – a true angel and champion for them and those she loved. Once an Angel, Always an Angel. I shall miss her dearly and will never forget her."

Oct 18, 2010 - Banner Bill Warren

The Inter-Tribal Warrior Society Honor Guard performed Military Funeral Honors for Chippewa Bill Warren at the Tahoma National Cemetery. Bill Warren, a Turtle Mountain Chippewa, was the first Honor Guard Commander for the Inter-Tribal Warrior Society.

Bill and his wife Irene were in an automobile accident on the Green Valley Road in Auburn on December 29, 2009. Irene escaped with just bruises, but Bill broke his leg above the knee (femur) and also below the knee, requiring surgery. Bill also had a couple broken ribs and two broken fingers. Before being released from the hospital, Bill was diagnosed with terminal lung cancer. He was told by his doctor that he had less than five months to live. Bill lasted another ten-and-a-half.

Bill's family held a "celebration of life" party for Bill at the Muck-leshoot Pentecostal Church on March 6, 2010 from 1 PM until around 5 PM. It was well attended by the local veterans. Umatilla Sid William Sr. made a Certificate and donated a blanket to honor Bill. The Drum was provided by the Cooley Singers and the Warrior Society presented the Drum with an honorarium. October 23, 2010 – Bob Ruble

Many of you who attend the Muckleshoot Veterans Brunch on the third Saturday of each month may have met Bob Ruble. He was a Marine, served during WWII, and was part of the Occupational Force in Europe after WWII. Bob was a member of the Marine Corps League, VFW, American Legion, and was also a member of the Law Enforcement Hall of Fame. Bob was also an Olympic Shooting Coach for the US, Indonesia and several other Chinese countries. I felt honored to know Bob.

THE USUAL NEWS

The committee has set some dates for some group travel, and I will be sending Muckleshoot Veterans a letter with the dates and information that I need from you to make travel arrangements. Take care of yourselves

Veterans, please mark your calendars for the third Saturday of each month. This is the day for our Veterans Brunch at the Muckleshoot Casino. Most brunches scheduled in the Chinook Room and the brunches start at 9 am.

If you are an employee of the Muckleshoot Indian Tribe who is a veteran, working for any of its many divisions, you are invited also to attend the brunches. All veteran activities are designed as family affairs.

The Veterans Committee has its regular meeting on the 1st Wednesday of each month. If you would like to attend the meeting, you are invited to do so. The committee provides lunch as the meeting occurs at noon.

I have had no one contact me about our travel plans. So the trip to Washington DC that was planned for September was cancelled. I have dates in October that would work, but I need to know who wants to travel. The trip to the Pearl Harbor Exhibit in Hawaii is tentatively set up for January. Get in touch with me to let me know what days in January will work best.

The best way to contact Sonny B is via email. His address is: sonny.bargala@muckleshoot.nsn.us; however, you can call his office at (253) 876-3295; and, if he is not there, leave a message. He has been known to sometimes return phone calls.

The Veterans Committee wants to have a veteran featured in our Veterans Corner each month. John Loftus has informed me that he has a writer who worked for the Seattle PI who will conduct the interview and do the article on you. John has offered to do the pictures. Please contact me so that I can let John know to make arrangements with the writer. Thank you.

TOP SIX LIST OF THINGS TEACHERS WOULD LIKE PARENTS TO KNOW

Remember that the teacher is on your side. Teachers truly care about your children and want them to be successful. If your child's teacher contacts you about a problem or something that happened at school, understand that the teacher is trying to work with you to resolve any conflicts that may be getting in the way of your child's success. You're all on the same team.

Trust in the teacher's feedback. Just because a child doesn't exhibit a particular behavior at home doesn't mean he doesn't exhibit that behavior in the classroom. So if a teacher reports a particular behavior that you haven't seen before, don't rush to say, "Well, I've never seen him do that." The classroom and home environments are quite different, and oftentimes children behave differently when forced to follow rules and work with peers. Listen to what the teacher has to say and work with him/her to find a solu-

If you are having an issue with the teacher, your child, the subject matter or the classroom in general, talk directly with the teacher before going to the principal or other administrators. Ninety-five percent of the time, a problem can be resolved between the teacher and parent with a simple phone call.

According to the National PTA, talking with your children is one of the most critical steps of healthy parenting. Communication is the key. Not only does this help you stay on top of updates and what's going on in the classroom, but it also shows your child that you are checking in. We are creating a PTA for Muckleshoot Tribal Schools which will begin meeting in January, 2011.

Check on Homework Regularly – but don't do it for the child! It's important to review your child's homework, but if they get an answer wrong, take the time to help them understand why. Please don't just tell the child the answer. That defeats the purpose of homework!

Go to Open House Night. A good parent-teacher relationship leads to a good student-teacher relationship, so don't skip the open house! Use the open house as a time to get to know the teacher, ask questions, uncover the expectations, address problems and find out what's going on in the class-

Please join next month's meeting with the Superintendent's Advisory Council for parents and grandparents to talk about their concerns, successes and methods to improve the Muckleshoot Tribal Schools with Superintendent, Michael Aaron. The meetings are held on the first Wednesday of the month in the School Library from 4:00pm until 5:30pm.

MTS fall sports make significant leaps forward

By Tim Tubbs, Athletic Director

MTS fall sports made significant leaps forward with full league membership into the eight-team Sea-Tac League. Because many of the schools do not play football, our MTS squad joined in the NW 1B 8-man League which also had eight members.

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL. Although the girls did not play any matches at home due to the gym closure, they became road warriors, logged a lot of miles, and fought hard throughout the season. Volleyball closed the season on October 27th with a 4-set loss to Quilcene in the League Tournament held at Mount Rainier Lutheran in Tacoma.

Letter winners for girls volleyball team are: Lena Elkins, Jenel Hunter, Vivian Jansen (2nd year), Kellie Manduza, Capt. (2nd year), Natalie Starr, and Lana Tsosie (2nd year). Olivia Ho was team manager and volunteer coach who helped Taneisha Tilque, Head Coach, and Nicole Barney, Asst. Coach to a successful season.

CROSS COUNTRY. Senior Cole Buchanan, who holds the school record in the 1600m, continued right where he left off in track last spring by competing for MTS in several League events, including the League Championship over the hilly and challenging course at Trophy Lake in Port Orchard.

Cole qualified for the District Championships at that meet, representing MTS at the highest level of competition, short of the State Championships. Be reminded that this is Cole's first attempt at cross country and racing over various 3.1 mile courses. Coach Angelo Baca and Cole Buchanan made MTS Kings very proud indeed.

MIDDLE SCHOOL VOLLEYBALL. The MTS middle school girls showed lots of interest in volleyball. Enough girls came out to field two teams as members of the Middle Chinook League. As with the varsity program, practices and games were held off-campus due to the gym closure.

Hard as the travel was, thirteen girls stuck to the end, returning home with team victories against Chief Leschi and Heritage Christian and well as several other very close finishes.

Well deserved congratulations go out to Patience Daniels, Chrystal Edwards, Belem Esparza, Shaughnessi Hicks, Leondra Keeline, Leesa Lozier, Alexis Mason, Shayla Mathias, Seaira Pacheco, Leanne Redthunder, Cissie Slockish, LaShawna Starr, Isabella Valles and Coaches Gina Coheley and Mikayla Schaaf.

Inside the GED Room An Interview with Zachary Valles

Tell me a bit about yourself.

My name is Zachary Valles, and I'm Muckleshoot from the Lozier family. Eve lived here in the community my whole life

Why did you decide to get your GED?

I found that without my GED it is hard to get a high paying job to support my family and pay bills.

What has the process of preparing for the GED been like for you? It has been tough at times but I found that with time I got a lof accomplished. I learned a lot more and things I forgot from school I picked up really quick. Sometimes I would not test because I thought I had to be perfect, but I found out that I was actually ready and I passed the test

What are goals for your future?

I have one of the five GED tests left-math. After I pass that I would like to get more training in culinary arts or carpentry. I would like to be a head chef or a journeyman.

What would you say to someone that is considering getting their GED but has not taken the first step?

I was intimidated at first but it is important not to cut yourself short and think that you can't do it. I found that the teachers are helpful in explaining the stuff that I did not understand and now I will have a lot more opportunities. If you take the time and effort, you will be successful.

It's not whether you win or lose, it's how you play the game

On Thursday, November 4th, around 5:00 pm I received a call from a gentleman who identified himself as the father of a player on the Crescent High School Football team. He proceeded to tell me about the bad sportsmanship his sons' team had been subjected to during the season. I braced myself, fully expecting him to start talking about our team.

And he did.

He said he has not seen a team in several years that displayed such a high level of sportsmanship! He continued to praise our team on their effort, poise and team work.

When our conversation was finished, I thanked him and hung up the phone. As I sat in my office, no one else around, I thought what a great testimony to our young men who have the courage to go on that field and play their game.

Winning is the goal of the team in any sport, but I will take our young men's sportsmanship over winning any day! So if you see one of your MTS football players or coaches, thank them for the effort and sportsmanship they have shown this year, and let them know you feel good because of them.

Lady Kings Volleyball Team shows great improvement

The Muckleshoot Middle School Girls Volleyball Team have surpassed their record last year, by receiving their third victory of the season conquering Chief Leschi, winning two out of three games!!! During the game our ladies had fantastic serves with almost every player making multiple serves over the net and numerous side-outs. The lady KINGS practiced hard every day after school for weeks and it has definitely paid off! We are very proud of our team and are sad to see the season come to an end. "Your Suggestions Count"

The Muckleshoot Health & Wellness Center offers "suggestion boxes" where guests can fill out forms to share thoughts, comments or suggestions. The purpose of these forms is to help us improve the quality of services offered to the community. These forms are not "incident reports", but rather confidential and private opportunities to share your thoughts on what we are doing well or on ways we might improve.

The suggestion boxes are located in each reception area and the main lobby of the building. The feedback forms are located next to the boxes. The boxes are checked at least twice a month by the Facilities Secretary and then delivered directly and confidentially to the appropriate department manager. Suggestions are then discussed privately at Quality Improvement committee meetings.

If possible, please provide contact information on the suggestion form so the appropriate manager can contact you to address your particular suggestion or area of concern. Again, this would be a confidential and private conversation.

We want to hear from you. Please take a moment to stop by the Health & Wellness Center and fill out a suggestion form today. Your thoughts matter!

Thank you

Red Ribbon Week is a tradition at the Muckleshoot Tribal School. All week long students participate in events — many of them hosted by a big dog named Paws — that focus on avoiding the pitfalls that young people face from the temptation to use drugs and alcohol. It is always one of the highlights of the school year.

Connie Daniels is Employee of the Month for October 2010

Connie Daniels started her career in healthcare back in 1991, long before the Health and Wellness Center was built. She worked in CHS for eight years before pursuing other positions within the Tribe. In 2005 she returned to healthcare as a Registration Clerk. In 2010 she assumed the responsibilities and demands as the CHS Supervisor.

Connie is being recognized for her commitment, efforts and the positive contributions she's made to both the CHS and Registration services. She was instrumental in the many changes made to the CHS program in order to make things better for all patients. Thank you Connie we appreciate you and your hard work!

Why did I received a denial in the mail from the Muckleshoot CHS Office for a medical bill?

There are several reasons why the CHS (Contract Health Service) Office would issue denials, below are the five main reasons:

- 1. You went to a scheduled non-emergent doctor's appointment without a PO number and the doctor's office billed the CHS office for the amount due by you.
- 2. You had an emergency room visit and did not call the CHS office for PO numbers within the 72 hour notification time frame. The hospital, emergency room doctor, x-ray department or ambulance sent the CHS office a bill for you.
- 3. You went to a doctor's appointment in town or had an emergency room visit and even though you called for a CHS PO number, you had primary private insurance coverage that requested information from you before they could pay their portion of the medical bill(s). They need to pay first.
- 4. You were referred by the CHS office to apply for an alternate resource to assist in your medical cost and you did not comply with the referral.
- 5. You went to a doctor's appointment in town for a medical problem when you could have been seen at the Tribal Medical/Dental Clinic.

Our CHS Program is funded by Indian Health Services (I.H.S) money and this requires that you follow specific notification requirements in order to be eligible for the CHS program. You must call or give notification to the CHS office before you receive any non-emergent medical services provided outside of the Tribal Programs and you must contact the CHS office of an emergency room visit within 72 hours (3 days) since the visit. The reason for these notification requirements is to determine if your request is within covered priorities, coordination of benefits with any other insurance you have, verify that you are CHS eligible and the most important reason, so that the CHS office can set aside the funds to pay for these services for you. Please be aware that the CHS staff did not make these rules, IHS did, and that the CHS staff is required to make sure that these rules are followed by everyone that is CHS eligible.

If the doctor's office/hospital sends the CHS office a bill for you, we are required to act on the bill by either paying for or denying the bill. When a CHS denial is issued, it is required to be sent by certified mail, the denial is sent to the address you have on file at the Clinic. The denial letter has instructions on how to appeal the denial, but this requires action on your part. So please make sure that we have current information available for you/your children. If you decide not acknowledge the CHS denial letter by not picking up the certified letter from the post office, the bill(s) will not go away. It is to your benefit to be aware of any unpaid bills you have, 99% of all unpaid bills will be turned over to a collection agency and this will show up on your personal credit history and could effect you ability to get a home, car, phone or any other kind of credit in the future. It will catch up to you

You need a PO number for each individual separate doctor, emergency room or medical service you receive, when you call for a PO, we set aside the funds to pay each doctor/bill you have. If you get a PO number for a doctor's appointment and the doctor wants additional tests and x-rays done or refers you someplace else, YOU NEED TO CALL THE CHS OFFICE AND GET ANOTHER PO NUMBER. You can personally choose to go to the doctor without a CHS PO number or not get PO's after an emergency room visit, then you have also decided to pay for the bills on you own.

If you have an alternate resource available to you, you are required to use this as your first source of payment for your medical costs. If you don't use this as your first source of payment, your CHS eligibility is denied. If the CHS office just paid medical bills without billing your insurance, or if you were eligible for other medical coverage and chose not to apply for the alternate resource, and we paid bills without following these rules, the CHS money would be all used up very, very quickly. It is our job to make sure we stretch your CHS money as far as it will go and help as many Tribal and community members as possible.

If there is a medical service that is available to you at the Tribal Health Programs, you are required to get the service there. CHS will not pay for something to be done outside, when the health area is already paying someone to perform the same service here.

Please keep in mind that this is just a brief description or explanation for some of the rules and regulations for I.H.S. that we have to follow. I hope that this information has been helpful in answering some of your questions on CHS office denials. If you have any questions, please give Connie Daniels or Maria May a call in the CHS office 253-939-6648.

If you are receiving notices about an unpaid bill medical bill and you had a PO, please bring the letters/notices into the CHS so that we can look into in for you..

CONTRACT HEALTH SERVICE (CHS) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

CHS OFFICE (253) 939-6648

- . Notify CHS office before any non-emergent services are rendered to determine patient eligibility, medical priority and to set aside funds for payment. Pre –authorization is mandatory and failure to comply is reason for denial of payment for claim(s).
- 2. In true medical emergencies, notify the CHS office within seventy two (72) hours of start of services. Failure to comply is reason for denial of payment of claim(s).
- 3. Prior notification does not guarantee CHS cay pay for services, unless all other CHS requirements are met. There are some services CHS can not cover.

ALTERNATE RESOURCE REQUIREMENTS:

Muckleshoot CHS is a residual resource and not an entitlement program. In addition to CHS, other resources for health care are available from various state, and federal programs, as well as individual and group health insurance policies. By federal law, CHS must ensure that all resources, where and when applicable, are utilized before CHS can assume financial responsibility for your care.

This means that CHS will not be authorized if you are eligible or would be eligible upon making an application for an alternate resource such as: Medicare (over age 65 or disabled at any age), Medicaid (medical coupons), crippled children or have private insurance etc. Failure to comply with a CHS office referral to an alternate resource will terminate your CHS coverage. You are required to use these benefits as your first source of payment of your medical-related costs.

The CHS office is required, as per IHS Federal Rules and Regulations, which requires all CHS denials to patients be sent by certified mail to the address on file.

Notice:

In an effort to better serve you better, we are making some changes to the walk-in clinic and medication refill guidelines. These changes took affect Dec. 15th, 2008 and include:

- Walk-in Clinic at 1 pm M-F will be seen based on medical need—not on a first come, first serve basis.
- Patients presenting for walk-in will be checked on their Registration status. If necessary, you will need to update your application.

The walk-in clinic will no longer be used for pain medica-

- tion refills. Please see your provider for refills.
- Lost or stolen narcotics will no longer be refilled.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation as we continue to look for ways to improve our services for you and your family.

AUTO-BURGLARY PREVENTION TIPS...

With Holiday shopping season rapidly approaching, the Muckleshoot Police Department would like to offer the following tips for a safe shopping trip. Don't let a "Scrooge" put a damper on your holidays by stealing the gifts you buy for your family and loved ones.

The first thing you can do to help: Don't leave valuables in your car – particularly not in plain sight! The last thing you need is to find your vehicle's window broken or items missing. That sounds like "common sense", but drivers/passengers do leave items of value in plain view every day. If you leave valuable items visible in your car, your car is automatically a target.

If you must leave valuable items in your car while out and about, place items out of sight before reaching your destination or move them inconspicuously. This includes packages, backpacks, gym bags, GPS units, MP3 players, and so forth. Someone may be watching when you put items under a seat or throw something over them. A thief is on the lookout for this, and can break into your car the minute you're out of sight.

If you can't take them with you, at least lock the items in your glove compartment or trunk. One reason SUVs and pickups are common autoburglary targets is because they don't have a "trunk" to hold valuables — the driver/passenger generally just "hides" their valuables "out of sight". The thieves know this, and do check glove compartments, behind seats, and under seats. It only takes a few seconds to check all the "usual" hiding places.

If your trunk can be opened from inside your car without a key, lock this feature when you are not in your car.

Leave no trace. Don't leave any "sign" that there might be valuables "out of sight" in your vehicle, such as docking stations or connector cables. Leave nothing in "plain sight" that might make your vehicle worth "investigating" by a thief; not even loose coins or a CD. Just leaving an empty docking station in plain sight, even if you've taken the high dollar component with you, may end up costing you hundreds of dollars to replace a broken window because the thief wanted to check your car for "hidden" valuables. Very few auto break-ins are "random" – the thieves see "something" in plain sight that's valuable, or hints of possible hidden valuables.

If you have an after-market stereo/CD-player with a removable face-plate, remove it. Without the faceplate, the unit is less attractive/useful to many thieves.

Try to park in busy, well-lighted areas. Try to park in well-traveled areas. Try to choose a well-lighted, visible, parking spot where there is lots of vehicular and pedestrian movement when possible.

Lock ALL your vehicle's doors even if you plan to be gone for only a brief time. We have items stolen from unlocked vehicles where the owner was only going to be gone "just for a second." It only takes seconds to steal your stuff! It's not at all uncommon for thieves to walk down a row of parked vehicles and check vehicle doors to see if they are unlocked. Don't leave any window open or even cracked open, including vent/wing windows and sunroofs.

Set any alarm or anti-theft device. If you have one, use it! Many people believe that car-alarms no longer make a difference, but they can be an effective deterrent to an auto-burglar, who most often chooses the easiest target. If they have two cars to choose from, one with an alarm and one without, they will likely burglarize the one without (unless you've left out valuables just too good to ignore!

Don't think your dark tinted windows will hide your valuables. Thieves often use flashlights to see through tint, and after-market tint is handy to keep all the broken glass in one "sheet" when they break out your window (and toss the broken window into your back seat or passenger seat to hide the evidence of the break-in

What Items are Most Commonly Stolen from Vehicles?

- Backpacks, gym bags, briefcases, day-planners
- Cash/coins, checkbooks and credit/debit cards
- Wallets and purses (even when hidden under a seat or in an unlocked glove compartment)
- Laptop computers, iPods and MP3 players, (and docking stations)
- Cell phones (and chargers) from passers by).

- Portable GPS navigation systems
- Stereo/CD players (and faceplates), amps, speakers (even when bolted down!)
- Jewelry, keys, mail (identity theft), tools
- Anything of obvious value

Mark your valuables! Recording serial numbers is great, but nowadays many serial numbers are on removable "labels," rather than "engraved" into valuable items. Also, a serial number doesn't "directly" link you to your stolen property. We'd suggest inscribing/engraving a "personal identifier" on all valuables.

What to do if something is stolen out of your car: As soon as you notice something's stolen (or that your car has been broken into) do not touch/adjust anything in, on, or around the car. As soon as possible, call 911 to report the incident.

Report Suspicious activity

"Suspicious Activity" would include:

- Persons walking up and down aisles of parking lots looking into cars or trying door handles, vehicles cruising parking lots at very slow speeds for extended periods while observing parked cars;
- Persons making any kind of mark or placing anything ON parked vehicles
- Persons sitting in running parked cars for protracted periods, and vehicles dropping one person off while continuing to cruise the same area.

Once home, unload your valuables immediately. Do not store valuables in your car any longer than necessary, and certainly never overnight.

Arnold Thomas Inspires Our Youth

Tribal Council Chair Virginia Cross and Council member Kerri Marquez with Arnold Thomas

Arnold Thomas, who has inspired countless youth on his travels throughout Native America, was a recent visitor in our area, where he spoke at the Muckleshoot Tribal School, Auburn High School, Virginia Cross Native Education Center, Olympic Middles School and the Muckleshoot Job Corps.

Arnold, who has visited Muckleshoot several times over the years, is a member of the Shoshone-Paiute Tribes of the Duck Valley Indian Reservation of Idaho and Nevada.

A gifted high school athlete, he was recognized as one of Nevada's elite football and basketball player and was actively recruited by a number of colleges. His dream of becoming a professional athlete seemed well within reach.

But this would not come to be. In the spring of his sophomore year, Arnold's father committed suicide. His death had a great impact on him and his family.

"I lost all harmony and balance," Arnold remembers. "My life was thrown into a tail spin. I was out of control. I tried to drown my grief and sorrow in alcohol and drugs."

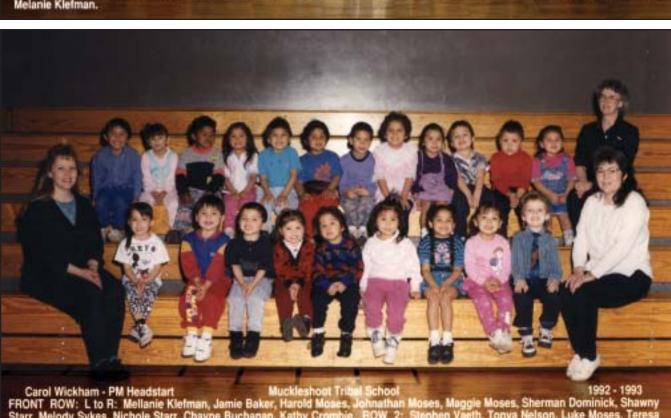

His tailspin reached bottom one warm summer night soon after he turned 18, when the promising young athlete stuck a hunting rifle under his chin and pulled the trigger, devastating his face and leaving him completely blind.

The road back was a long one, but it was filled with learning. He would not be unable to speak for several years, and he went through many surgeries to reconstruct his face.

"With the steadfast support of my hometown community, my family and my friends – along with my own renewed will to live – I survived this challenging period of my life and slowly began to put the shattered pieces back together," Arnold says.

He has since gone on to many achievements, including earning a Master's Degree in Social Work, coaching baseball and becoming a traditional dancer. But his most important mission has been in spreading his message to youth that life is good, and that their future can be anything they want it to be. We thank our friend for his visit and the words he shared.

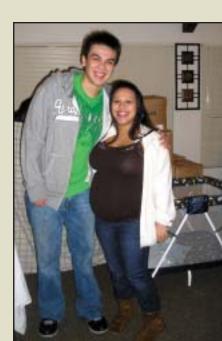

These Head Start class photos were printed last month as part of the grand opening photo layout for the new Early Childhood Education Center. They are being reprinted this month, a bit larger, so you can get a better look at these little ones.

of dolphins for 40 years. This is his life's work, and it has now become part

So there I was in the frigid waters of the Pacific Ocean surrounded by chaos. It really hit home when I put my head under the surface of the water and heard the eerie cries of the dolphins as they were driven by boat propellers and forced into the hidden cove to be stabbed to death with spears just a few feet away. It was shockingly loud. It was as if there were speakers in the ocean, and all I could hear underwater was the haunting voices of the dolphins. The sound was incredible – beautiful, yet terrifying and painful to hear. I just don't think words can explain it.

It was a whole different language I was hearing, taught by one generation to the next. Dolphins communicate with one another through a variety of clicks, whistles and screeches, all with their own distinctive sound and dialect. During my research of dolphins, I found out that they have strong family bonds, with pods often represented by a span of four generations. They are friendly, trusting, curious, sentient self-aware beings.

In 2009, a group consensus of researchers concluded that dolphins are second in intelligence to humans, and suggested that their status be elevated to that of "non-human persons." The panic that I could see in their eyes was truly similar to looks of panic I have seen throughout my life in another warm-blooded mammal species – humans.

So, after seeing the movie, we knew we had to do something to help save the oceans. My husband, David Blanchard, and I have always been adventurous and worldly, and helping out those who are less fortunate has always been important to us. We bring toys, clothes, candy, and school supplies to poverty-stricken countries that we have visited, at times in a capacity as relief workers during national disasters and other states of emergency.

Many people in America are poor, but it is not even in the same league as what we have seen in our travels. In the past five years alone, we have been to Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Canada, Costa Rica, Guatemala, Jamaica, Mexico, Peru, and Vanuatu, and we have spent time living with indigenous tribes of the Amazon Jungle.

After helping to organize a Save Japan Dolphins rally in downtown Seattle last month and announcing our intention to go to Taiji, we were invited to and recently attended an event with Ric O'Barry in Berkeley, California, and then a major star-studded red-carpet event in an exclusive mansion in Hollywood to kick off the next season of Whale Wars called Operation No Compromise.

This garnered a lot of news coverage because, in addition to all the actors, musicians, and celebrities there, movie star Michelle Rodriquez from Avatar and Lost announced that she has joined the cause and will depart with the ship Steve Irwin for the three-month battle in Antarctica. In an interview, she said "I can't sit back and not do anything knowing how wrong it is, not to care about tomorrow." The oceans belong to everyone, not just

So, how did I, Luana Nelson-Davis, end up in the middle of an international incident? Well, we were told that the bottlenose dolphins not taken into captivity for a life of slavery, would be set free. They lied. Once David realized they were going to kill them, he got very angry, along with my twoyear-old, Mauricio Stukayu, who kept yelling, "Bad guys hurt dolphins. We have to save them!" (His favorite cartoon is Diego the Animal Rescuer). Even a little kid knows this is wrong.

So, while David was yelling at them to stop, a Canadian woman decided to swim with them. It is, after all, a public beach in a National Park. The police told her that if she went in the water, the dolphin killers would get angry and attack her, and that would cause problems, and she would be

When David asked the police why she would be arrested, instead of the dolphin killers for assault, they told him, "No comment."

When he told them that did not make any sense and was not the law, they told him to "Shut up and go away." They don't even try to hide their bias. So when she then attempted to enter the water, over 10 law enforcement officers ran down, formed a human wall to block her, and then physi-

For me, that was the final straw. Seeing these men threatening, grabbing, and pushing a young lady down on the ground for legally entering a designated swimming beach, while ignoring the crimes being perpetrated by these guys who were in the process of slaughtering an entire tribe of dolphins, including pregnant mothers and small babies, was more than I could take. I felt I had to do something, so I ran and jumped into the ocean with all of my clothes on and swam to the dolphins.

Everybody freaked out! It was crazy.

So, as I finally decided to exit the water, I was swarmed by police and reporters, had my passport confiscated, and was told I was under arrest for "interfering with commerce" and could face 2-3 years in prison. At that point, my babies started crying, and I said that my one-year-old baby, Marcelo Alesek, would need to come with me to jail because he is breastfeeding.

At this point, TV news crews were everywhere, and the Sea Shepherd's Director of Criminal Investigations, Scott West, arrived and told me to not talk to them anymore, and that we would request to speak to the U.S. Embassy at once. After an hour or so, I ended up with a stern warning not to make any more trouble.

As Paul Watson reported on Facebook, "They tried to arrest one Cove Guardian for going into the water, but would've had to take her year-old nursing baby into jail, and that presented a PR nightmare for the police. The brave lady just arrived in Taiji with her husband. She is a Muckleshoot Indian from Washington State."

Later than night, we got a personal message from him saying "Thank you David and Luana. I wish I was there with you all. You're all doing an incredible job." The next day Scott West said I was a true hero, and that people all over the world were talking about what had transpired. Ric O'Barry complimented us and asked us to write a blog for his website.

Japanese media interviewed us several times, reporters from different countries called us for our story, and a picture of me was on the front page of the Sea Shepherd website, along with a press release about it. We told them this is a crime against nature. We said Native American tribes that hunted bison or whales for sustenance, had to change their ways but maintained their historical culture, and that they still celebrate the songs and dances of their ancestors, except without the continued killing of endangered species, or the slaughter of the whole herd.

It was depressing watching the daily occurrence of entire families of dolphins and whales being driven into the Cove and slaughtered before our weary eyes. When this happens, the sea literally turns red with blood. Just a few hundred feet away, they have a hotel where you can swim with dolphins, an aquarium where you can eat dolphin meat while watching a dolphin show, and tourist boats shaped like dolphins that take you by the Cove to go dolphin watching.

The whole place is utterly bizarre, covered with sculptures and paintings of happy dolphins. While there, we created a rock dolphin on the beach with our kids. After we left, they destroyed it, but we will continue to document this massive theft of intelligent life every day with pictures, videos, and blogs. We will never surrender this war to save the dolphins.

If you want more information on this struggle, it is readily available online, and we would be glad to help out, also. Thanks for reading.

Muckleshoot Indian Casino's 4th Annual CAT Accomplishment Ceremony

The Fourth Annual CAT (Career Advancement Training) Accomplishment Ceremony for 2010 that was held in Muckleshoot Indian Casino's Chinook/Coho Banquet room on Thursday, October 21, was an event filled with pride and honor for the Muckleshoot Tribal Members who are furthering their careers at MIC. The CAT Program is an accelerated career development program for Muckleshoot Tribal Members.

The event commenced with a prayer and blessing by Lisa Starr, "a member of the Muckleshoot 1910 Shaker Church and a true believer of God." Lisa was followed by the Muckleshoot Canoe Family with an enjoyable performance filled with cultural songs and dances, which included tribal youth. MIC General Manager Darryl Blackburn then welcomed everyone to the event, he was followed by Billy Frank Jr., Chairman of the Northwest Indian Fisheries Commission, who spoke about the history of learning for tribal people and acknowledged how he is pleased with efforts like Muckleshoot Casino's CAT Program. The next speaker was Muckleshoot's Tribal Council Chairwoman, Virginia Cross. She expressed how it has always been Council's vision to have a CAT Program at MIC that gets Muckleshoot Tribal Members into leadership roles at Monica Simmons, T&OD CAT Program Manager and the CAT Advisory Group, (which consists of top CAT Participants and MIC executives) were recognized for how they have brought the CAT Program to the next level by building the Program into what it is today. They have created the CAT guidelines, subsequent additions, and individualized Learning Plans that clarify expectations and build accountability in to the CAT Program. This greatly assists in providing structure to building a path for each CAT Participant to become an effective leader.

After Monica, CAT Participants who moved onto their next portion within their position in the CAT Program were praised and awarded certificates for their efforts. These were Steven Cayou F&B Restaurant Supervisor, Amanda Eyle Beverage Supervisor, Yvonne Johnson Beverage Manager, Johnelle Ramirez Executive Chef, and Brandon Eyle Marketing Director. Brandon spoke to the audience about his progression in not only his learning in Marketing, but in learning skill sets that he is able to apply to his life in general. Brandon expressed gratitude to the CAT Participants for making a difference at MIC and the management at MIC for working with the CAT Program. Brandon also stated how he is honored to be a part of the CAT Program, its future vision, and to be able to help fulfill the long term mission of the CAT Program.

The Next CAT Participants were those who have moved onto the next position in their career with a promotion. These were, Madeline Bargala to Cage Shift Manager, Nellie Brown to Cage Shift Manager, Lawrence Foulkes to IT Tech II, Justin Johnson to IT Tech III, Gregg Judge to IT Tech III, Irvin Moore to Table Games Dual Rate Pit/Assistant Shift Manager, Sarah Wilson to T&OD Specialist, Adrian Markantonatos to Table Games Shift Manager, Gerri Williams to VGD Manager (and for Earning her Associates in Arts Degree) and Gilbert Adame to Facilities Supervisor. Gilbert spoke to the crowd about how he came from a tough background without having opportunities to develop and how after coming to MIC and joining the CAT Program, he has significantly benefited. He also expressed his appreciation for being a part of the program. The next speaker was Sarah Wilson Specialist for the CAT Program, who read her article that was in the Muckleshoot Monthly about the pivotal team building CAT LEAD event softball game at Cheney Stadium. She invited the losing team the "Old Guys", executive group, to come to the stage and to accept their coveted loser awards from the CAT Participants winning team, team "GraveDiggaz" and to take pictures with their Loser Awards.

Thanks to everyone who attended this special event and for supporting the CAT Program and a special thank you to the CAT Participants for your hard work and dedication.

Muckleshoot Hosts "Get Out the Vote" Dinner

In the days before this year's General Election, the MIT Public Affairs Department, on behalf of the Tribal Council, organized a community "Get Out the Vote" dinner at the casino. The dinner was very well attended by both community members and political candidates. Elected officials and candidates in attendance included State Senators Claudia Kauffman and Pam Roach, State Rep. Pat Sullivan and Congressional hopeful Suzan DelBene, among others.

Bucs-Lah Still on the Hunt

After my Dad, Pete Jerry, Bucs-Lah, had his second stroke, he didn't know if he'd ever make it up into the mountains to hunt again. So it meant a lot to me to be able to take him up to hunt elk and deer this fall in the watersheds. As you can see from the pictures, we didn't go home empty-handed. It was a special family time for all of us, and I'm so happy that my son Mike Jr. was able to hunt with his Grandpa.

I'd especially like to thank the hunters for voting to give my Dad a deer permit. It was done in recognition of his role as co-founder and first Chairman of the Muckleshoot Hunting Committee, which is something he is very proud of. I just wanted to share these pictures with the community and wish you all the happiest of holidays...

Sincerely,

Mike Jerry Sr.

Feathered Healing Circle

Hello everyone, it's Cynthia Lozier and Franklin Ross with The Feathered Healing Circle.

Wow, we have been losing a lot of our loved ones. One of the most recent was my nephew, Terann Hoptowit. He lived to party ever since he was grown. But even he was trying to change. Over the last couple of months I actually saw him a few times and didn't smell alcohol reeking from him. He was clean, clothes clean and had manners. I saw many things changing with him for the positive. Some said he didn't have a chance from the very beginning. My sister Vivian Hoptowit was killed by her pimp in Seattle by him pouring gas on her and lighting her up. Her pimp was found a few months later dead.

We think that we have a hard life; then, when we take time to listen to others, we find our life isn't really all that bad. Matter of fact, in comparison our life is really quite well.

People hate God for taking their loved ones but you have to remember God didn't do this. The Devil comes to seek, kill and destroy. God restores us. God does not hurt us. Jesus never once turned someone away who had asked him to heal them.

I want to be like the gentleman who knew he couldn't get to see Jesus, so he climbed the tree just to get a glimpse. Jesus said, "Come down, I want to dine at your place tonight." It is always better to think outside the box. If you have faith, it will happen. Throughout my life, God has been there. I just had to be quiet enough to hear him. Hear the small voice of God trying to have a relationship with you.

As usual, meetings are at 5pm Philip Starr Bldg. Shalom, Shalom take care until next time...

Cynthia and Franklin

A special thanks to Fawn for all her thoughtful things she's done for me and my family. Thank you to the tribe, also.

Sincere thanks, Norma R Dominick Wil and Roy Murphy Monica M Williams & Girls

Why is Will Writing and Estate Planning Important for Trust Landowners?

If you die without a Will, it is called dying "intestate" which allows federal laws to determine:

Who receives your property, and What amount they will receive and Whether your trust property may be subject to a forced sale

Under a federal law, the American Indian Probate Reform Act, your trust property will be divided into the following two catego-

You are an elder who received a home through the Muckleshoot

You have, or may acquire, trust land, non-trust land, or personal

You want to leave property to someone who is not in your imme

You want to leave income from an interest to a non-Indian

You want to stop further fractionation of your land,

- If none, then to parents.;

For the Children

The Angel Tree

Calling all Tribal Administration Employees

We have been blest these past years with the generosity shown by our fellow Muckleshoot Tribal employees. When we at the Muckleshoot Indian Child Welfare (MICW) program reached out – we were not disappointed. Christmas Time is swiftly approaching and we are again reaching out.

In light of not having enough help for children placed with relative and foster care, we are moving forward with our "Angel Tree."

For those of you who are new employees the Angel Tree is a project we started to help provide children Christmas gifts. We decorate a Christmas tree with Angel ornaments and each of those ornaments will be dedicated to one of our children in care (relative placements, in-home with parents, foster parents and guardians).

The decorated tree will be displayed in the Philip Starr building lobby. We are asking for sponsors from the employee community to help purchase gifts for the children. For those of you who are able, please help. Please spread the word.

If you can help with sponsoring one of our children for the Angel Tree, can donate toys or children's movies, please contact us at (253) 833-8782.

For our past Angel Tree sponsors, we extend our deepest thanks and appreciation.

Do you remember the Muckleshoot Elder's Cookbook??

In the Revised 1997 version of Muckleshoot Indian History by Patricia Noel, there are recipes on an insert between pp 27 and 28 of two pages. It says, "Edited from a Muckleshoot Elders Cookbook". No other information. The Preservation Program staff is looking for a copy of the "Muckleshoot Elders Cookbook" to scan for the archives.

We hope someone has a copy and will contact us at 253-876-3273 (Donna) or stop in the Philip Starr building's Wildlife Department wing and speak to Melissa, Sarah or Donna.

Thank you!

Happy 70th Birthday to my Dad & Macy's Grampa Pete Bucsleh Jerry. We love you and hope you have many more birthdays to come.

HOUSING TIPS

LIGHT BULB INFORMATION

When replacing burnt out light bulbs, it's important to use the correct wattage bulb for the light fixture you are installing it in. Every fixture is constructed to handle a certain maximum wattage. Installing a light bulb that exceeds the maximum wattage can cause excessive heating that can ultimately cause the untimely burn-out of bulbs, damage to the fixture, and or house fires.

When changing bulbs, look for a sticker that indicates the maximum wattage recommended for the fixture. These caution stickers are typically located inside the fixture near the socket. For recessed type lighting, look inside of the can for guidance.

With the many different light bulb products in stores today, purchasing the correct light bulb can be confusing. Always keep your fixtures maximum wattage and bulb type in mind while shopping. The caution sticker also lists the bulb type. Product packaging will list the wattage and bulb type to help you select the right product. Compact fluorescent bulbs (CFLs) use 80% less energy than the standard incandescent bulbs.

While they are more costly to purchase, quality CFLs last between 6,000 to 15,000 hours. The long life and electricity savings make these products cheaper in the long run. When choosing CFL bulbs, the packaging should clearly state which incandescent oulb the CFL is designed to replace. For example, a 20W CFL is equivalent to a 100W incandescent bulb.

If you have questions or concerns about your light fixtures or recommended bulbs, please contact Housing at (253) 939-3311.

Grandma Norma, Lovey and Baby RJ

Dear Family,

I miss home very much and love and miss you all very much. I am sorry for the way that I have been mistreating everyone. I do not mean to be this way, and I am working on changing back to the me that I want everyone to remember, not the me you've seen walking around doing nothing but getting into trouble.

I just want everyone to know that I do love you and that it hurts because I do not feel the same love in return. We are family. The only family I have. I have been thinking of what I can do to try to make it up to you and I remember what us as a family have all agreed on, and now it's time, because I miss all of you and we can all start over again a stronger, closer family.

I sit here and think of words spoken by my mom and dad. All of that love that took so long for me to even begin to learn, but now I know the word HONOR, and what it means to never forget or leave because we are family.

It's been a long time since we all just sat down and shared some laughs as a family, but not forgotten. Thoughts of family help with all the time I'm in a box with only a door in and no window out, so I can honestly say that you make the days go by for me. All I ever wanted was for my family to be happy and stay strong together. That was always in my prayers, as long as I can remember, because family will never forget or leave your side, because that is us, FAMILY.

Well, now you know that you are always in my heart and prayers and I love you all. If you all agree to what was said, then I will, for the love of my mother and father and family, in the name of honor, your love means more to me, and I want you to know that. I thank God every day that we are still together for one another and I would like for my mom to know that "if it would make you happy" then I will, because you are my mom and I love you.

All you have to do is show me how and we will all be right there to show all of our love for you for being for us all and never leaving us to fend for ourselves. A lifetime of love lived all of our entire lives.

With love to my FAMILY and I never forgot love,

Nathen B.
