IMPORTANT MESSAGE ON HEALTH CARE REFORM – PLEASE READ!

PLEASE DO NOT SIGN UP WITH ANY HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANIES. YOU NEED TO SIGN UP AT WELLNESS STARTING IN OCTOBER 2013.

By Lisa James, MIT Health Director

Soon many new messages will be hitting the airwaves, TV and other media about Health Care Reform. You will hear, or have already heard of Obama Care, Affordable Care Act, ACA, and Health Reform as well as the start date for the Washington Health Benefit Exchange of October 1, 2013.

In fact, Health Care Reform has already begun and we have been working to make sure we are prepared to do our very best to care for our people. The only thing you really need to know about the Affordable Care Act, ACA or Health Reform is: "Got Questions? We Got Answers!" We are here to help, just come on in to the clinic.

ObamaCare: Is the unofficial name for The Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act which was signed into law on March 23, 2010. In a more general sense ObamaCare and The Health Care for America Plan or any such name is what is talked about to describe the ongoing health care reform under President Obama. President Obama signed into law a comprehensive health care reform bill, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA; P.L. 111-148). The new law will, among other things, reauthorize the Indian Health Care Improvement Act (IHCIA). In addition, it makes several changes related to American Indians and Alaska Natives enrolled in and re-

Paddle to Quinalt 2013 concludes

By Mike Edwards

We started our journey on July 21st and we went to Port Townsend, set up camp and put the canoe in the water. Jamestown S'Klallam was co-host for that for our first day and it was quite an adventure.

We did fight fog for the first two or three mornings from Port Townsend to Jamestown and Jamestown to Makah or Elwha in the mornings, so that was quite an adventure. Weather played a factor for us a lot this year, especially on the Strait of Juan de Fuca. Every day was an adventure out there for the canoes.

We did as much practice as we could this year, about 10 or 11 weeks. Out at twelve weeks, the canoe was out practicing on the water for the last three months since April leading up to Tribal Journey. And no matter how much practice you get in, the weather always plays a factor on whether your canoe will be on the water or not. So, we did end up trailering one day or towing one day or two days on Tribal Journey, due to the weather. And a lot of canoe families ended up trailering or towing their canoes also.

One of the roughest days was when we left Jamestown. Right out the spit, there were some pretty good waves in there, plus the riptide and tide changes going on, with the wind picking up in the afternoon. When we got to Port Angeles, it was all whitecaps and it made it hard for some canoes to paddle into the harbor. We had our small support boat tow a canoe into the harbor, since the wind was blowing them around so much, they couldn't steer their canoe. And I myself had towed a canoe also that day into the harbor, it was blowing so hard.

The crew did an outstanding job this year, not only on the water, but also on the grounds. The grounds crew did a wonderful job. So, my hands go out to the whole Canoe Family for the wonderful teamwork they did throughout Tribal Journey, from the beginning to end.

And our hands go out to the elders – the elders that were able to make it to Protocol and the ones

REMEMBERING "SWA-DEEK-LUB" / CHARLES A. SNEATLUM

Lisa "Angel" Sneatlum wrote this touching article about her late father, mostly as a personal and family memoir. Upon reading it, her good friend Shirley Taylor urged her to submit it to the newspaper. We are honored to share these memories of a very fine man with our readers.

It's been five and a half years since the passing of our Dad, Charlie Sneatlum and it's so painful to think that he has left us already and that all we have now are memories of him. But, life goes on and we have to carry on the best that we can. I just wanted to share a few things about our dad.

Our dad was such a happy go-lucky type of person. He was always doing and or saying something crazy and then laughing, and laughing. I sure miss those laughs!

Dad had such pride in so many things. His favorite thing was remembering all of the family songs that he taught us. We remember singing and learning these songs when we were very young. He had an explanation of each song that he taught us, either where it came from, who it belonged to, or who sang it. We are trying to keep these songs in our family and teach our kids and grandkids.

Our dad served in the army in 1950 – 1953 during the Korean War and he was very proud to have served. Not many Indian people serve in the military anymore or it just seems like they don't on our reservation here in Muckleshoot. He would talk about memories of being in Korea and the one story that comes to mind is his first experience of seeing a little Korean kid wearing nothing but a burlap sack. It really made him think about being in that war. He would also see all of the homecomings and welcome home things on TV for veterans nowadays and compare it to when they came home and there was nobody waiting for them, but they were still glad to get home.

He enjoyed traveling to different Indian celebrations for the stickgames. We would travel to white swan a few times a year (rodeo, fourth of July and Indian days).

Back then, that's where the "biggest" celebrations used to be! The only one that was bigger than white swan, was Wellpinit every labor day weekend.

Back in 2004, dad went through surgery to get his gallbladder out and the day that he got out of the hospital he wanted to go to Wellpinit, so I brought him. What a long 6-hour ride that must've been for him, but he really wanted to go.

In the winter months we would travel to Smokehouse powwows throughout the Pacific Northwest. I used to love to bring him places and he would run into an old friend and they would speak Indian amongst each other

Lummi Nation Opposes Cherry Point Coal Terminal

LUMMI INDIAN RESERVATION, BELLINGHAM, Wash. – Building the proposed Gateway Pacific export terminal and rail spur at Cherry Point would “have a substantial impairment on the Lummi treaty fishing right,” the Lummi Nation said in a formal opposition letter sent this week to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Opposition by the tribe calls into question the future of massive Gateway Pacific shipping facility and could imperil the terminal and rail spur.

“It will make us reassess the direction we are going,” Muffy Walker, the Corps’ district regulatory branch chief was quoted as saying by The Bellingham Herald. The Corps of Engineers has authority to grant permits necessary to build the terminal.

“We have denied permits in the past, based on tribal concerns,” Walker was quoted as saying.

In the letter, Lummi Indian Business Council Chair Tim Ballew writes, “Any impact on the Lummi treaty fishing right is inherently an impact on the Lummi way of life.... We believe that the Corps should see that these projects would without question result in significant and unavoidable impacts and damage to our treaty rights.”

Lummi Indians maintain the largest Native fishing fleet in the United States, and Lummi fishers have worked in the XweChiexen (Cherry Point) fishery for thousands of years.

If constructed, the Gateway Pacific export terminal would be the largest coal terminal on the West Coast of North America. It would significantly degrade an already fragile and vulnerable crab, herring and salmon fishery, dealing a devastating blow to the economy of the fisher community.

“It is imperative that the Corps carry out its trust responsibilities as they relate to the Lummi Nation and the treaty rights to fish, gather and hunt in the usual and accustomed places,” Ballew wrote.

that were able to travel with us. In fact, Cousin Tommy McJoe, he traveled with us from Elwha and made it with us as far as he could. I brought him out on the boat one day from Sekiu to Neah Bay and he really enjoyed the ride out there. We also had him sit in the canoe at Neah Bay to go in for the formal Protocol for the permission to come ashore at Makah. Tommy had a real good time.

It was a nice, cool journey. I'm not used to the cold weather that much anymore, especially during the summer. We had lots of foggy days, a lot of foggy starts. Our crew actually had to get up at 2:30 AM one night to be on the water by 4:00, I believe it was, or 5 at the latest. It was different seeing the canoes head out in the morning in the dark, about an hour before sunrise. We did that one or two mornings to try and anticipate and beat the tide and the weather the best we could.

Once we got to the ocean side, it was lot calmer on the ocean than it was in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The water was nice, just had your swells and rollers, which wasn't too bad coming from Neah Bay all the way down to Quinault.

The one day we had a tough time was the landing at Queets, I believe it is South Beach. When the canoes were arriving at South Beach, going in with the surf, our canoe tipped over and we did have one injure his knee. All the other pullers seemed to be okay.

During that day, there was about nine other tip-overs at South Beach for the canoes riding the surf into the beach and at that time, about three or four canoes after Muckleshoot landed, the Quinault Nation called it quits for the day, landing at South Beach, and the canoes that didn't get to land there were instructed to go ahead and head to Quinault and rest there for the final landing day.

My hands go out to Quinault for that day – for having a wonderful setup on the beach there with volunteers, anticipating that it was going to be a rough landing for a lot of canoes. They did have a lot of volunteers out there awaiting the canoes when they came to shore. Then they had rapid response for when the canoes that did tip over, to get everyone ashore and on the beach and their canoes uprighted and placed on the beach. So, Quinault did a wonderful job of having all that set up for all the canoe families that were landing at South Beach.

They had a flotilla of support boats come up to Neah Bay, three crabbers, some Boston Whalers and a couple other small craft to help keep an eye on the canoes that were paddling the ocean, to check on one another. We did the best that we could to help out canoe families that didn't have support boats. As we're always taught, we help one another out no matter where we are or what we're doing. So we did our best that we could do to help other canoe families that didn't have support.

The landing day went real good. It was nice and warm out at Quinault. They landed about 5:00 pm on August 1st, at which time the canoes were all arriving. They took them as they came in, showed up that day.

Quinault also did a wonderful job hosting, considering their location, their parking, their camping. Everything was set up real good with their shuttles, for the ones that needed to be shuttled and elder parking and meals.

And when we did Protocol, I got a call Thursday night saying we were up Thursday night. And then I got a call fifteen minutes later, said they cancelled Thursday night, August 1st, and that we were going to be up August 2nd for Protocol. That surprised me, because I thought we would be up on a Sunday or a Monday.

And then, come Friday night, when I got back to Quinault, I noticed that we were sixth from the end on the Protocol list. So, we patiently waited until early Monday morning; I believe we went up at 6:00 or 6:30 in the morning Monday morning for Protocol. And that was quite an adventure for us, because we've never been up doing Protocol that early in the morning. It was hard waking the crew up at 4:30 to get ready for the Protocol. We're used to getting up to go out on the water, but not to do Protocol.

Quinault gave away about ten or twelve canoes, I believe, to different individuals or canoe families on their final day, anywhere from river-size canoes up to ocean-size canoes. So, my hands go up to Quinault for the wonderful work they did and the planning they did to furnish these wonderful gifts to the different families and individuals who they gifted their canoes to.

But, we aren't done yet. We're thinking about bringing the canoe to Makah and pulling out there in their waters again for Makah Days.

We have a fundraising event coming up, a memorial for the late Norma Rodriguez, an elder of the Canoe Family, on August 31st at 2:00 pm, and this event will be at the Elders Complex.

So, with this being done and Canoe Journey being over for 2013, the planning starts for Paddle to Bella Bella 2014, as we speak. That is going to be a lot longer journey. It could be up to a month long. Our anticipated leaving date for that would be in the middle of June sometime, and I believe the landing date for Bella Bella, BC is July 17th.

It took Bella Bella 31 days to get from Bella Bella to Quinault by water this year on the Paddle to Quinault, so we see what we're up against.

I guess I will cut it short for now and try to have another article for the next newsletter.

Thank you. ~ Mike Edwards

and laugh. I remember sitting in the smokehouses and there would be speakers speaking nothing but Indian out on the floor. Those were the days! To me, it just makes my heart sink, thinking about how things used to be. On this rez he seemed to always speak Indian with George Starr Sr., Uncle Blodgett Moses, Uncle Allen Moses, and Morgan Moses.

Dad often talked about his experiences in life. One of them was how amazed he was about how his mother knew things, he said that he swore that she had telepathy. She would sing a song and say "Oh, so and so must be coming over, or in the Indian language she would say that she felt their "breath", and not too long after that there would be knock on the door and it would be that person.

He said that one time he was coming home from the army – unexpectedly from Colorado Springs, and he was going to surprise her because she didn't know that he was coming home. A song kept ringing in his head (one that he never heard before) and he kept on singing it and singing it. When he got home his mom told him that she knew that he was coming home, he told her "Yeah, right", and then she sang to him that same song that he was singing on his way home. Our late sister, sheryl used to always say that she would like to have the powers that grandma had (telepathy).

Our dad was really close to his grandpa, Sam Snyder (Sub-Ladwh). He learned a lot from him and remembers songs and stories his grandpa sang to him and told him. One story that comes to mind is the one where his grandpa Sub-Ladwh was a young boy (probably under 10 yrs old), and he was carrying water for his parents at the omen house in Suquamish, when he passed by this old man sitting at the corner of that big smokehouse. The old man called him over and asked him his name and asked who his parents were and told him that he was a good boy because he was carrying water for his parents. When he brought the water to his mother, he told her about the old man asking him questions (at the corner of that smokehouse and told him he was a good boy because he carried water for his parents), sub-ladwh's mother told him that old man was Chief Seattle. What a compliment though to come from a chief!

Dad was lucky to be related so closely to two chiefs. On his dad's side of the family, he was related to (and later named after) Chief Sneatlum of the Whidbey Island Skagits - Swa-Deek-Lub. On his mom's side of the family, he was the great, great, grand nephew of Chief Sealth (Seattle).

We sure do miss our dad – his smile, his laugh, his stories, his songs, his wisdom, his teachings – but he is a legend in our books and his legacy will carry on!

Pentecostal Church Holds Annual Camp Meeting and Vacation Bible School

The Pentecostal church held it's anniversary with a camp meeting and Vacation Bible School (VBS) on July 11- 14, 2013. Approximately 180 people attended the services and approximately 25 children attended the VBS which was held at the same time as the camp meeting evening services. The week end schedule included the Spanish church leading the celebration on their regular Thursday night service with Pastor Carlos Flores preaching that night. On Friday night, a Samoan group trio called A New Beginning, presented a splendid medley of songs and Pastor Kenny preached. Apostle Joe Mwaniki invited several Kenyan speakers and singers for the Saturday night service. He also preached that night and several Korean musicians and singer shared a medley of songs. Another Korean church shared on Sunday morning. Afterwards, we all, Korean, Spanish and the Pentecostal church shared a delicious barbeque together. After the barbeque the children had fun with water activities. It was a very refreshing time for everyone.

NWIC to offer bachelor's degree at Muckleshoot

B.A. in Tribal Governance and Business Management offered starting fall quarter

Northwest Indian College's (NWIC) evolution from the Lummi Indian School of Aquaculture to a college that now offers more diverse educational opportunities mirrors a growing nationwide demand for post-secondary education in tribal communities. Now, as NWIC celebrates 30 years of serving both regional and other tribes, the college continues to evolve and grow to meet new demands in Indian Country.

One of NWIC's focuses in recent years has been on expanding its reach to more tribal communities and on providing students with the option to obtain culturally relevant four-year degrees without leaving their communities.

This fall quarter, NWIC's growth will continue – that's when the college will begin offering a bachelor's degree at its Muckleshoot campus location. NWIC was approved to offer the Bachelor of Arts in Tribal Governance and Business Management degree in February by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities, which oversees regional accreditation for 162 institutions.

"This is another important step in our evolution and growth as a four-year degree granting institution," NWIC President Justin Guillory said. "All of our new bachelor degrees, like the Tribal Governance and Business Management degree, are intended to meet the needs of tribal communities, and to equip our students with the knowledge and skills needed to become leaders in their communities and obtain family-wage jobs."

NWIC began offering program classes – both face-to-face and videoconferencing – at the college's main campus on the Lummi Reservation in spring quarter 2013. Now, NWIC has expanded the degree offering to three of its regional extended campuses: Muckleshoot, Tulalip and Nez Perce.

There is high demand at the three NWIC sites for the Tribal Governance and Business Management degree program, said Bernice Portervint, NWIC's dean of academics and distance learning.

"Members of the tribes we serve really want to help their communities develop and they really want to be involved with tribal nation building," Portervint said. "I really think this is a degree that promotes the skills, values and knowledge they can utilize for the betterment of their communities."

The new bachelor's was developed in response to a community needs survey that identified it as a degree that would be most beneficial to tribal communities, said NWIC's Public and Tribal Administration Coordinator Laural Ballew, who co-developed the program and its curriculum with NWIC business instructor Steve Zawoysky.

"Our focus on a degree in tribal governance resulted from collaboration with tribal leaders, managers, scholars and students who recognize the importance of preparing the future leaders of tribal communities," Ballew said.

Ballew, who is Swinomish, said she is excited and honored to be able to offer the Tribal Governance and Business Management baccalaureate degree program at NWIC.

"This signifies a momentous opportunity not only for NWIC, but for all the tribal nations we serve," Ballew said. "It represents the vision of educational opportunities our elders and tribal leaders have strived to provide for tribal members. Offering this degree is a natural extension of our efforts to promote indigenous self-determination and knowledge through the teaching of tribal sovereignty and leadership, sound decision making and business practices based on cultural values."

The Tribal Governance and Business Management program will offer students the fundamental knowledge and experience necessary to succeed in the areas of leadership, sovereignty, economic development, entrepreneurship and management, Ballew said.

The degree will include courses in: principles of sovereignty; Native nation building; tribal and public administration; business management; economic development; and leadership.

NWIC was approved as a baccalaureate degree granting institution in 2010 and, in addition to the Tribal Governance and Business Management degree, currently offers a Bachelor of Science in Native Environmental Science and a Bachelor of Arts in Native Studies Leadership. The college is also developing a bachelor's degree in human services, which is expected to be completed by the 2013-2014 academic year.

NWIC's Muckleshoot site is now accepting admissions applications. Fall quarter classes begin September 16. Space is limited, so early registration is advised. Everyone is welcome. For more information, contact Jeramie or Harmony at (253) 876-2831. NWIC's Muckleshoot site is part of Muckleshoot Tribal College, a full-service Learning Center located in Auburn, Washington, with the goal of offering a seamless system of education from GED through Master's degrees for Muckleshoot Tribal members and the surrounding community.

Congrats to Hall of Fame Coach Bill Hawk!

The Muckleshoot Tribal School and Muckleshoot Community deserve to stand tall and be proud that they inducted their first Hall of Fame coach, Bill Hawk, on Wednesday, July 24th. Muckleshoot Basketball was in the conversation, in the program, and granted the finest audience of basketball greatness available. Be proud! Joseph Martin, Michael Aaron, the School Board, and the Tribal Council should be granted coattail bragging rights; but, most certainly the kids! MTS basketball is "on the map" hanks to everyone who chose to support them at any moment. Bill deserves another eagle feather! Congratulations to the Muckleshoot Indian Tribe!

ceiving services from the Medicare, Medicaid, and Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP)—also called Social Security Act (SSA) health benefit programs.

Health Reform: Is not really reforming health care. It is health INSURANCE reform. Trying to understand health insurance is a not a simple thing which is why so many rely on insurance agents to help explain policies. Restrictions will be placed on insurance companies. They will no longer be able to impose lifetime limits or deny people coverage that have pre-existing conditions or charge them a higher premium.

Affordable Care Act: The Affordable Care Act, or ACA, is a long, complicated piece of legislation that tries to reform the healthcare system. One of the key aspects of the bills states that health insurance will be mandatory for all U.S. Citizens. This has caused some controversy and was challenged in the Supreme Court but upheld. It does have certain applicable exclusions and by providing affordable health care, obtaining it will not be hard for many people.

Affordable healthcare will be offered through the Washington Health Benefit Exchange, WHBE. The WHBE is a state/ private organization partnership. Individual and small businesses will be able to go to the WHBE run website to compare health insurance plans much like you do with auto insurance companies now. This is expected to encourage competition between health insurance companies, lowering the cost for Americans.

Medicare will be expanded to cover more individuals and free preventive care.

The ACA is doing many things for healthcare and it's important you understand how you'll be affected. Ask us about any questions or concerns you may have.

PLEASE DO NOT SIGN UP WITH ANY HEALTH INSURANCE COMPANIES. YOU NEED TO SIGN UP AT THE WELLNESS CENTER STARTING IN OCTOBER 2013. It is very important you sign up at the HWC.. or you may sign up for something that will not work for you and your family or may cost you a lot of $$$. We will be sending more info out to all of you as the time gets closer.

Thank you,
 Lisa James

Advance Directives

From the desk of Ronette Bailey
 Medical Social Worker
 Muckleshoot Wellness Center

What is an Advance Directive?

This is a way for You to tell your family, friends, and Health Care Providers what kind of medical treatments you DO or DO NOT want if you become unable to speak for yourself in the event of a medical emergency. The Advance Directives generally include the following:

A Living Will (aka: Health Care Directive):

This is a written or printed document that clarifies whether you wish to withhold or withdraw "life sustaining procedures" if you are in a terminal or permanently unconscious medical state.

A Durable Power of Attorney:

This documentation allows you to choose someone to make medical decisions for you if you are not able to do so for yourself. It also allows you to specify what types of decisions your designated contact can make for you.

This type of advanced decision making and documentation can be an important resource in the event of a medical emergency and it can reduce the stress that is often felt by friends and family members at these critical times.

Are you interested in making an Advanced Directive?

Carbon Monoxide

What are the symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning?

- A headache
- Confusion or dizziness
- Feeling very tired
- Feeling sick to your stomach (nausea)

If you or someone you are with gets these symptoms and might have been around CO, move to a place with fresh air right away and call 9-1-1 for an ambulance.

How do people get carbon monoxide poisoning? - People can get this if they breathe high levels of carbon monoxide inside a closed space where fresh air can't get in. Common sources include:

- Smoke from a fire
- A gas or oil furnace that is not working correctly
- Kerosene heaters, charcoal grills, camping stoves, and gas-powered electric generators
- Cars or other vehicles that are left running inside indoor skating rinks, warehouses, and parking garages.

What is carbon monoxide? - Carbon monoxide is a kind of gas. You can't see, smell, taste or feel it. When fuels such as gasoline, natural gas, wood or charcoal burn, they make carbon monoxide. Exhaust fumes from cars and trucks, stoves, gas ranges, generators, and heating systems have carbon monoxide in them.

What is carbon monoxide poisoning? - It happens if you breathe too much carbon monoxide. It causes headaches and can make you pass out. It can even kill you.

Prevention of carbon monoxide poisoning:

- Put a carbon monoxide detector in your home. This is a device that is like a smoke alarm. If you plug the detector into an electrical outlet, make sure it also has a battery back-up.
- Make sure that all the appliances in your home are working correctly.
- Never leave a car running in a garage, even with the garage door open.
- Never run a generator inside your house or garage or just outside a window, door or vent that goes into your house.
- Never use a charcoal grill or portable propane grill indoors.

"Your Suggestions Count"

The Muckleshoot Health & Wellness Center offers "suggestion boxes" where guests can fill out forms to share thoughts, comments or suggestions. The purpose of these forms is to help us improve the quality of services offered to the community. These forms are not "incident reports", but rather confidential and private opportunities to share your thoughts on what we are doing well or on ways we might improve.

The suggestion boxes are located in each reception area and the main lobby of the building. The feedback forms are located next to the boxes. The boxes are checked at least twice a month by the Facilities Secretary and then delivered directly and confidentially to the appropriate department manager. Suggestions are then discussed privately at Quality Improvement committee meetings.

If possible, please provide contact information on the suggestion form so the appropriate manager can contact you to address your particular suggestion or area of concern. Again, this would be a confidential and private conversation.

We want to hear from you. Please take a moment to stop by the Health & Wellness Center and fill out a suggestion form today. Your thoughts matter!

Thank you

What is heroin?

Heroin is an illegal, highly addictive drug. It is both the most abused and the most rapidly acting of the opiates. Heroin is a naturally occurring substance extracted from the seed pod of certain varieties of poppy plants. It is typically sold as a white or brownish powder or as the black sticky substance known on the streets as "black tar heroin." Although purer heroin is becoming more common, most street heroin is "cut" with other drugs or with substances such as sugar, starch, powdered milk, or quinine. Street heroin also can be cut with strychnine or other poisons. Because heroin abusers do not know the actual strength of the drug or its true contents, they are at risk of overdose or death. Heroin also poses special problems because of the transmission of HIV and other diseases that can occur from sharing needles or other injection equipment.

CONTRACT HEALTH SERVICE (CHS) NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

CHS OFFICE
(253) 939-6648

1. Notify CHS office before any non-emergent services are rendered to determine patient eligibility, medical priority and to set aside funds for payment. Pre-authorization is mandatory and failure to comply is reason for denial of payment for claim(s).
2. In true medical emergencies, notify the CHS office within seventy two (72) hours of start of services. Failure to comply is reason for denial of payment of claim(s).
3. Prior notification does not guarantee CHS pay for services, unless all other CHS requirements are met. There are some services CHS can not cover.

ALTERNATE RESOURCE REQUIREMENTS:

Muckleshoot CHS is a residual resource and not an entitlement program. In addition to CHS, other resources for health care are available from various state, and federal programs, as well as individual and group health insurance policies. By federal law, CHS must ensure that all resources, where and when applicable, are utilized before CHS can assume financial responsibility for your care.

This means that CHS will not be authorized if you are eligible or would be eligible upon making an application for an alternate resource such as: Medicare (over age 65 or disabled at any age), Medicaid (medical coupons), crippled children or have private insurance etc. Failure to comply with a CHS office referral to an alternate resource will terminate your CHS coverage. You are required to use these benefits as your first source of payment of your medical-related costs.

The CHS office is required, as per IHS Federal Rules and Regulations, which requires all CHS denials to patients be sent by certified mail to the address on file.

Consider alternatives to soda and energy drinks: Fruit for energy and water for hydration. Propel Zero and Crystal Light are examples of sugar-free water flavorings.

- Brain: Decreased memory, difficulty paying attention, increased anxiety, and increased feelings of hunger
- Teeth: Cavities, damage to enamel, tooth decay, sensitive teeth, and frequent visits to the dentist
- Weight Gain: Just 1 can of soda or energy drinks per day can lead to 15 pounds of weight gain in 1 year, which is 45 pounds in 3 years. Hunger increases also, which adds to the weight gain
- Chronic Disease: Excess soda and energy drink consumption can lead to heart attack, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, and diabetes
- Bones: Weakened bones and can make them more vulnerable to breaks

Tommy McJoe

Tribal Elder Tommy McJoe had a very special Canoe Journey this year. He got to ride in the big support boat with Mike Edwards from Sekiu to Neah Bay and then got to ride in the canoe as they came in to do protocol and ask for permission to come ashore at Neah Bay. This was a trip Tommy won't soon forget!

Muckleshoot Wildlife Program Designated Hunter's Policies and Procedures

The Muckleshoot Wildlife Committee, under authority of the Muckleshoot Hunting Ordinance (hereafter Ordinance), Title 21, hereby sets forth policies and procedures for Designated Hunters. As defined by the Ordinance, Designated Hunters are "eligible Muckleshoot Hunter(s) who is listed on the official Muckleshoot Wildlife Committee Designated Hunters list to hunt for another tribal member during the Open Season hunt." The following procedures will detail how a tribal member may be added to the official Designated Hunters list, who they may hunt for, a code of conduct each designated hunter is expected to follow, outcome of not complying with the code of conduct or receiving an infraction on a designated hunting tag, and complaint process should a tribal member want to report an issue with their Designated Hunter.

Per the Ordinance, an enrolled Muckleshoot Tribal member may be approved to be on the Designated Hunter list if all fines have been paid from previous year, all Designated Hunter tags were turned in on time from the previous year, be otherwise eligible to hunt, and approved by the Wildlife Committee to be added to the list. Each Designated Hunter may hunt for a specified number of animals as defined by the Ordinance. Elder or Senior Tribal members and Women are automatically approved to receive a Designated Hunter. Disabled persons will be approved on a case by case basis by the Wildlife Committee. Ineligible hunters will not be granted a designated hunter. Those requesting a Designated Hunter have the right to change their Designated Hunter at any time by contacting Wildlife staff, stating the request for the change, and notifying them of who they would like to hunt for them.

Those Hunters approved to be on the Designated Hunters List by the Wildlife Committee are expected to adhere to the following Code of Conduct:

1. Designated Hunters are expected to treat the privilege of being a Designated Hunter as a serious task that is entrusted to them by the Muckleshoot Tribe.
2. Designated Hunters are to act in an appropriate manner at all times while Designated Hunting and represent the Tribe in an appropriate manner.
3. Designated Hunters are expected to refrain from alcohol and drugs (including prescription drugs) while Designated Hunting.
4. Designated Hunters are to treat each harvested animal with respect and ensure that all meat is maintained in a consumable manner.
5. Designated Hunters are to return all of the meat from the harvested animal to the person they are hunting for. Meat will include neck, brisket, ribs, front quarters as far as the knee, hindquarters as far as the hock and all of the meat along the backbone, including backstrap. This will not be the case if the meat is taken directly to the butcher, at such time that the meat will be deboned.
6. Designated Hunters are expected to comply with specific requests for horns, hides, and organs from the person they are hunting for.
7. Designated Hunters are not to charge any money for the privilege of hunting for another Tribal member; this includes gas reimbursement, skinning, etc. Money offered from the person a Designated Hunter is hunting for is to be respectfully declined.

8. Designated Hunters are expected to gut and skin the harvested animal prior to delivery to the meat shop or to the person's residence that they are hunting for.
9. Designated Hunters are expected to converse with the person they are hunting for prior to harvesting any animal to determine any special requests and where the meat is to be taken after harvest.
10. Any theft of meat harvested by a Designated Hunter must be immediately reported to Muckleshoot Wildlife Enforcement and a police report filed.

Any infraction resulting from a Designated Hunting tag will disqualify a hunter from being added to the Designated Hunting List for the next season. Designated Hunters selling wildlife from any animal harvested on a Designated Hunting tag will result in the hunter being permanently banned from being a Designated Hunter. Any violation of the above listed Code of Conduct will result in immediate removal from the Designated Hunters list, reallocation of any remaining Designated Hunter tags, and prohibition of being on the Designated Hunters list for two hunting seasons. Any Ordinance violations will be forwarded to the Tribal Court and may result in the person not being eligible for to be a Designated Hunter the following season.

Each Designated Hunter will be expected to sign a copy of the Code of Conduct after being approved to be on the Designated Hunter list and prior to receiving Designated Hunting Tags.

Should a tribal member not be satisfied with their Designated Hunter, or if they wish to report a complaint regarding their Designated Hunter, the following process will apply:

All complaints need to be in writing and brought into the Wildlife Program within one week of the incident or when the person reporting became informed of the issue. Only those persons who requested the Designated Hunter in question can report a complaint. Once a complaint is received, it will be forwarded to Wildlife Enforcement staff who will investigate the claims by interviewing all individuals involved, including the Designated Hunter. The Wildlife Enforcement staff will present their findings directly to the Wildlife Committee during a regularly scheduled meeting. The Wildlife Committee may take action based on the findings of the report. Action could include, but is not limited to, no action, removal of the Designated Hunter in question from the list for the remainder of the year, for the next season, or permanently, or a combination of the choices. Both the person reporting the issue and the Designated Hunter will be informed of the decision by certified return receipt mail from the ATOM-ACS.

During a regular meeting of the Muckleshoot Wildlife Committee on May 7, 2013, the above stated Designated Hunter's Policies and Procedures were approved by a vote of 4-0-0.

Muckleshoot Wildlife Dept. to offer Hunter's Education Course

The Muckleshoot Wildlife Department will be teaching a Washington State Hunter's Education Course on, October 7th-11th. If you are a tribal member and are interested in hunting outside of your treaty areas this course is required to obtain a Washington hunting license. Or, if you are interested in hunting outside of Washington State most states require you to have completed a hunter's education course before issuing you a license.

A new change in the Muckleshoot Hunting Ordinance requires teens from sixteen through eighteen to have completed this course before being issued hunting tags.

The course will be held over five days and the typical class day will last three hours. The class will run from 6 PM to 9 PM. At the end of the course there is a multiple choice test that you must pass before being certified. There is also a skill evaluation portion of the course where you will be evaluated on what you learned and firearms safety. Subject matter that will be taught during the hunter's education course includes but is not limited to:

- Firearm safety
- Washington State hunting rules and regulations
- Survival
- Basic First Aid
- Wildlife Conservation
- Sportsmanship
- Muckleshoot hunting rules and regulations

This course is open to anyone interested in getting involved in hunting. Children under the age of 12 are required to have a parent present with them. The hunter education course is an easy learning environment; however it may be too advanced for children under 12. The class will be held to 25 students on a first come basis.

The only thing students will need to bring with them to class is paper to take notes and a pen or pencil. All other supplies to include firearms will be provided to the students. If you have any questions regarding the Washington State Hunter's Education Course please stop by the Muckleshoot Wildlife Department or call 253-876-3268. Please sign up for the class by calling the listed number or stop by the Muckleshoot Wildlife Department. The class will be held in the Philip Starr Building.

Hello from David Marquard

Hello to all my friends and family of the Muckleshoot Tribe. I, David Marquard, would like to take this opportunity to let everyone know that I'm doing great up here in Monroe. We Natives got our softball team together and are doing awesome! We are also preparing for our annual pow-wow, which is in September, so we are excited for that.

I personally am preparing to be released from prison here next March. It's been a long journey for me and I've learned a lot about myself and can't wait to get out and be with my family.

So, for now, I'll keep everyone in our prayers, especially our elders, Tribal Council, Canoe Family, and all my Nativez / Muckleshoots in other Iron Houses. And a special shout-out to my Muckleshoot Brother who's at my old stomping grounds, Mike Gulla! Hope you're doing good down there and I'll see you when we get out.

Hoyt! Sincerely,

David "Indio" Marquard
