Smoking Salmon with Gilbert King George

A film by Matthew Vestuto (Chumash) & Michael Lopez
Produced by Tallis & Gilbert "Hoagie" King George

Hoagie King George and MTS High School Principal Ron Craig

I wanted to make this film because the smokehouses on our reservation have all but disappeared. That alarms me. So Tallis and I came up with the idea to make a film to pass down the knowledge of how to smoke salmon, as it was taught to me. I hope people will become interested in smoking salmon, a lifeway that belongs to us.

The film is dedicated to the memory of Billy Frank Jr. (1932-2014) He devoted his life to protecting the Salmon People. He will be remembered among the legendary chiefs of our two treaty wars. My gratitude to my mom, aunt and mother in law, who taught me to smoke salmon: Eva Mae King George Jerry, Alice Williams, and Lena Wilson Moses.

We donated copies the DVD to the Muckleshoot Tribal School, Muckleshoot Branch of the King County Library, the Muckleshoot Archives, and the Muckleshoot Tribal College. You can view the film at anytime on YouTube:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ILxPOmmLVN3>

We are grateful to our filmmakers, Masa Vestuto and Michael Lopez. Masa is Chumash from Ventura, California. He has the privilege of serving on the board of directors for Advocates for Indigenous California Language Survival and is active in revitalization of mitsqanaqan (Ventureño Chumash.) Michael practices his art in Albuquerque, N.M.

"Michael Lopez and I always wanted to work together when we were in a film course at Evergreen State College, but it never worked out," Masa says.

"After graduating, the prospect of working with Hoagie King George arose and it dawned on me that this was our opportunity. We didn't have to contend with pressure, as school projects tend to go, and we were able to listen closely to Hoagie and Tallis, letting them guide the project.

"It's important to me that Hoagie, who has the knowledge and wants to share, retains the ownership of the film. That's very important. Michael and I performed a service, and we were very honored to have been chosen, fed really well and to have made good friends. As we say in my tribe, it was not me you fed, but the spirit. kiš 'an kiš'alaqkumi'it (we are grateful to you.)"

HEAD START CELEBRATES 50 YEARS

Along with the Navajo Nation, Muckleshoot was one of the first two tribes to receive a Head Start grant, and the women of the community worked very hard to make it happen. Virginia Cross was the program's first director, and has since dedicated her life to education and public service.

When the time came to celebrate Head Start's half-century mark, Virginia made sure that Senator Patty Murray, a former pre-school teacher herself, would be on hand to join in.

Upon her arrival, Sen. Murray witnessed a native language lesson for pre-schoolers at MELA before walking over to the packed MTS gym to deliver her speech. Clearly moved, she spoke of Chairwoman Cross, saying, "I can think of no one more appropriate to share this day with."

Council members Charlotte Williams, Virginia Cross and Marie Starr wrapped Sen. Murray in a Muckleshoot blanket.

Sen. Murray went on to thank the local Head Start founders, many of whom were present, as well as the descendants who represented those that have passed, saying that, "We certainly would not be here today without all of them."

It was a day a fine food and fine speeches, and many well-deserved recognitions for those who fought for this program so many years ago. Head Start was the tribe's first grant-funded program and it served as the foundation upon which our entire tribal government structure has since been built.

Big gain for WA Tribes in 2015 Legislative Session

By Madrienne Salgado, MIT Intergovernmental Affairs Specialist

OLYMPIA – This year the Washington State legislature passed SB 5433, a Tribal Education Bill, Requiring Washington's tribal history, culture, and government to be taught in the common schools. I can't help but feel proud of our Tribe's participation in the success of this bill.

Muckleshoot was diligent and had our Intergovernmental Affairs team working on this throughout the legislative session. I felt fortunate to have a role in the process as I was asked to testify in support of the piece of legislation on behalf of our Tribe.

Our collective efforts and hard work paid off and on Friday May 8, 2015, Governor Jay Inslee signed this bill into law.

Kudos to everyone who helped move this bill forward, including Tribal Council, the WA legislature, our intergovernmental affairs staff, education department staff, and above all, our state lobbyists. In addition I'd like to say a special thank you to Joseph Martin, our discussion on this subject greatly assisted me in developing and organizing my thoughts which ultimately manifested into my speech below.

I've provided the speaking points of my testimony in hopes of providing everyone with a better perspective and understanding of the bill and the incredible potential it can have on our communities; but if you'd like more information and details about the bill please visit:

<http://app.leg.wa.gov/billinfo/summary.aspx?bill=5433>

Gov. Jay Inslee signs SB 5433 into law with Tribal Chair Virginia Cross on his right hand and Madrienne Salgado behind him. Claudia Kauffman is on the left in the black dress.

Congratulations Muckleshoot Indian Tribe!

"Hello. For the record, my name is Madrienne Salgado, member of the Muckleshoot Tribe and former public school student from the Auburn School District. I would like to thank the chair and the rest of the committee for the opportunity to address you all here today.

"I'm here on behalf of myself and the Muckleshoot Tribe in support of House Bill 1511, to require the inclusion of Tribal history and culture curriculum in WA schools. I would also add that the two adjacent school districts of our reservation have expressed their support for this bill as well.

There are a variety of reasons why we support this piece of legislation.

In part, because between 90-95% of Native American children are educated in public schools, and these students face disproportionately high rates of discipline, dropout rates, and bullying.

I would argue that part of the reason this is happening is due to lack of education and the many misrepresentations and stereotypes of Native Americans in society today.

For generations, our histories, if they've been taught at all, have been explained and defined through euro-definitions and perspectives. Not just students but educators as well have misinterpretations of what it means to be Native American.

Their Indigenous imagery mostly includes the romanticized 'noble savage' and/or the 'stupid, drunk, dirty Indian.' And if these words strike you, I'm glad, because I want the imagery that these words represent to resonate with you, because it's images like these that are affecting our students and communities.

I would suggest the proposed Since Time Immemorial curriculum would provide a stepping stone toward creating a safer and healthier learning environment for all. The beauty about this curriculum is that it's endorsed by tribes and it would incorporate regionally specific focus with students learning about the contributions and history of their surrounding tribes. This is sorely needed, not just for the benefit of tribal students but the general population as well, including educators.

This curriculum has been supported by tribal and non-tribal entities for a reason. It's because the need to educate students with quality, relevant, and correct information about tribes is great. People need to know that Tribes are not distant, static, homogenous communities living in a vacuum. We are living members of your communities and the residents of this state since time immemorial. People need to understand the relationships between tribal, local, state, and federal governments and the meaning and significance of treaty rights and tribal sovereignty.

As someone who has experienced the harshness of non-native ignorance in public school, and who believes that this piece of legislation has the power to positively impact generations of Washingtonian students and educators, I strongly encourage you to support this bill. Thank you"

 These were the speaking points I used when testifying at the public hearing in Olympia before the House Committee on Community Development, Housing, and Tribal Affairs. I had similar points when I spoke at the public hearing on the Senate side.*

BIG CHANGES COMING FOR HUNTERS

The Muckleshoot Wildlife Committee would like to notify enrolled Tribal hunters and those requesting Designated Hunters, that you will likely see some big changes coming this hunting season. Due to concerns of overharvest in particular areas the result may be limitations in the time areas are open, in the number of animals that may be taken, and the species that may be hunted.

We've seen a dramatic increase in the number of tags overall, particularly those tags that are solicited by hunters for women and elder/seniors to request a Designated Hunter. In the interest of ensuring that herds are sustainable and available for hunting for future generations, we ask that you consider what your actual need is before requesting the tags. Staff will be ensuring this year that you certify that you have the freezer space and funds available to pay for processing.

The Wildlife Committee is in place to make these hard decisions in the effort to ensure that future generations (your grandchildren or great-grandchildren) have the opportunity to exercise treaty hunting rights. We want to make sure that in 20, 30, 50 years tribal members aren't saying "remember when we used to go hunting..." We all need to do our part now to make sure that does not happen.

SR 164: Hemlock St. S.E. to SE 408th St. - Paving 164

Why is WSDOT repaving SR 164 through Muckleshoot tribal land?
The pavement on SR 164 between Hemlock Street Southeast and Southeast 408th Street is deteriorating and badly cracked in many areas. In addition, there is severe rutting from the tires of the 23,000 vehicles that use SR 164 every day. It hasn't been repaved since 1998, and the pavement has now exceeded its expected lifespan. Repaving will help preserve this critical section of highway infrastructure.

In addition, the project will upgrade three existing pedestrian ramps to meet current ADA standards.

When will the work occur?
Construction is currently scheduled to begin on or after July 6, 2015. To avoid big backups on SR 164 during the day, most of the work will occur at night. Daytime closure hours will be limited. At least one lane will be open at all times during day or nighttime closures.

- Lane closures from 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. Sunday through Thursday
- No closures allowed on Friday or Saturday nights
- Daytime lane closures allowed 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday through Friday

The work will be complete in fall 2015.

Will work be allowed when there are events at the White River Amphitheatre?
Closures will not be allowed during the day or night on any day when there is a concert or event at the amphitheatre that will attract more than 3,000 people.

What should drivers expect?
Drivers should plan for delays and allow extra time when traveling on SR 164 during work hours. Flaggers will alternate traffic or a pilot car will lead drivers through the work zone.

206-768-5755
KaramiA@wsdot.wa.gov

Kris Olsen, communications
206-440-4704
OlsenK@wsdot.wa.gov

What are the benefits?

- A smoother ride for drivers and local business customers.
- Reduced maintenance costs to repair cracks and potholes.
- Upgraded pedestrian ramps that provide a safer transition to cross the highway.

What should nearby residents expect?
In order to install new pavement, the top two inches of existing pavement must be removed through a process known as grinding. Grinding is unavoidably noisy and can cause vibration. People who live or work nearby may hear or feel it.

Muckleshoot Tribal members who live on or near SR 164 will hear noise from:

- Construction equipment and vehicles
- Paving machines
- Jackhammers
- Sawcutting
- Generators and backup alarms

The pavement removal work is the noisiest work.

Noise mitigation
The following steps will be taken to mitigate noise:

- Use of approved bed liners in trucks.
- Use of ambient back-up warning alarms on vehicles when possible.
- Erecting temporary noise shields when possible.
- Providing ear plugs upon request.

Noise concerns
If you have noise concerns, call the 24-hour noise hotline at 206-440-4DOT (4368)

New Community Events Coming to the White River Amphitheater this Summer

MUCKLESHOOT – A series of five family-friendly, unique community events will be taking place this summer at the White River Amphitheatre, featuring three drive-in movie screenings and two car shows.

These events will take place on days when the Amphitheatre is not in use for the big concerts. Planning and production is a joint venture between the Muckleshoot Events Committee and One Reel, the non-profit arts and cultural organization that has been engaged in multiple projects with the Tribe since 2013.

Drive-in movie theaters are vanishing around the country. There are only a handful left in all of Washington State. Since the Valley-6 in Kent closed in 2012, there is no longer a drive-in anywhere in the entire South Sound.

But that's about to change this summer with family friendly Friday Night Drive-In Movies at the White River Amphitheatre! A giant 55-foot movie screen will be erected in the venue's front parking lot. A special FM radio frequency will allow visitors to tune into the movie audio through their car's stereo system. Additionally, an area for chairs and blankets will be set up for those wanting to enjoy movies outside under the stars.

First up will be The Goonies on June 26; then, on July 31 Toy Story will be featured; and, finally, on August 21 Up will close the season.

The Goonies is an early Steven Spielberg adventure comedy. It tells the story of a band of pre-teens from the "Goon Docks" neighborhood of Astoria, Oregon who are attempting to save their homes from foreclosure and demolition. They discover an old Spanish map that leads them on an adventure to unearth the long-lost fortune of One-Eyed Willie, a legendary 17th-century pirate. It stars an ensemble of young actors who prove that it's possible to be a hero at any age.

Pixar Animation Studios' Toy Story was the first-ever feature-length computer animated film. This stunning action-adventure story stars Woody, a pull-string cowboy toy that belongs to a boy named Andy. It features a cast of all the toys in the child's bedroom, including its co-star the high-tech, space-ranger action figure Buzz Lightyear. When nasty next-door neighbor Sid and his army of robots threaten the well-being of Andy's toys, Woody and Buzz join forces to save the day.

The lushly computer-animated film Up is one of Pixar Animation Studios' most beloved, touching, funny and colorful films. It tells the story of Carl Fredrickson, a 78-year-old salesman, who is about to fulfill a lifelong dream by tying thousands of balloons to his house to fly away in it to the South American wilderness. Curmudgeonly Carl's worst nightmare comes true when he discovers a little boy named Russell is a stowaway aboard the airborne house. It is ultimately the story of overcoming adversity through an unlikely friendship.

All films will screen at dusk, times will consequently vary throughout the summer as the days get longer and then shorter. Bouncy houses and other activities for kids will be available onsite, open two hours prior to screening time. Food and beverage concession sales, organized by Tribal members, will be available for purchase.

All are welcome at these screenings, and admission is free as a gift from the Muckleshoot Indian Tribe to Tribal members and the neighboring communities.

The Amphitheater lot will also host celebrations of car culture this summer with two unique shows, one featuring drifting, the other a custom car show showcasing multiple genres of custom cars.

No one knows quite when drifting got its start. It was probably in Japan during the 1980s. Wherever it began, manipulating cars to swerve and spin into improbable situations quickly caught on as both a professional sport and in informal meets in parking lots around the world, including the Puget Sound area. One Reel is partnering with local entrepreneurs The Giving Trio LLC, who are also organizing the Win Me 5K charity race in Enumclaw in early August, to present this drifting expo.

"My partners and I are excited by this opportunity," event partner and The Giving Trio's Mario Coluccio, says. "This event offers a beautiful venue to showcase, in a professional way, activities that are popular yet under-represented in our community. What makes this show unique is the specific demographic to which it appeals; this is not your standard classic car show. We plan to attract people of all ages who love and appreciate drift cars, to join in an event that is informative, fun, memorable, and takes car shows to a whole new gear."

Custom cars are an art form and a personal statement, as much as they are a mode of transportation. Surrounding them is a visual art and music scene historically heavily rooted in Hispanic culture. MIT and One Reel are partnering with local custom car expert Abe Cortez for a showcase of these ornate vehicles and the artists and mechanics who produce and alter them.

"This is a great opportunity for the local custom car communities" says co-organizer Abe Cortez. "This event will attract enthusiasts from around the tri-county area and bring together many cultures in a day of unity. I hope people in the community who maybe are not too familiar with the details of low riders and other custom vehicles will come out to see what this culture is all about."

Both shows will feature vehicle displays, specialty product vendors, musical entertainment, food, and prizes in a variety of categories. There will be a small fee for exhibitors, but the shows will be free and open to the public.

Central to organizing these events has been Frankie Lezard and the MIT Special Events Committee. Frankie says "These events will provide fun family activities over the summer months after fireworks season that the whole community can enjoy, and that also provide some fun work for Tribal members. It's been really interesting working with Jon and Jyo of One Reel to see all the aspects of putting these shows, and the other projects they're working on together, and to learn more about all the nuanced aspects of organizing large- and small-scale events at the amphitheatre."

This same team is concurrently working on other youth oriented, educational and cultural events that will be announced at a later date. In the meantime, go to www.facebook.com/WRAcommunityevents for information about movie starting times, how to register your car or product in one of the car shows, and other updates on these new events in our community.

Celebrating Motherhood!

PHOTOS BY JOHN LOFTUS & EVAN AVILA

There were several events in recognition of Mother's Day this year, including a large luncheon at the casino, another in the PSB Cougar Room, and a special Celebration of Motherhood, Life Givers and Miracle Workers Dinner featuring presentations by Valerie Segrest and Jeanette DeCoteau on May 7 at the Health and Wellness Center.

Springer Drive

Everybody's happy down by the river! Low water levels due to Corps of Engineers repair work far upstream at Mud Mountain Dam have once again made traditional White River springer drives possible. Tribal members rushed down for the opportunity to get their feet wet chasing salmon, or just to relax and watch the fun. Another drive is planned for late June and a third one in August.

Fisheries Commission hosts Annual Fishers Meeting

The Muckleshoot Fisheries Commission hosted its Annual Fishers Meeting on Monday, June 1st. A very nice meal was served, but the fishing forecast delivered by the tribe's biologists was far from encouraging. Some of the bad news included:

- 1) A giant wall of static water known as "The Blob" is lying off the coast and likely to evolve into another El Nino;
- 2) With 50 days above 80 degrees last year and an even warmer forecast for this year, the water temperature is too high; and,

3) Lack of snowmelt or rainfall completes the trifecta, leaving the rivers flowing at approximately one-third of normal.

The tribe will fish as best it can given the circumstances, but there is little to be optimistic about. The only good news, perhaps, is that pinks and chum are less sensitive to the anticipated water conditions and may show up in their usual abundance.

Vashon Clam Digging Open & Oyster Permits Available

The Muckleshoot Fisheries Division pleased to announce that the Tribe's Vashon Island tidelands are OPEN for Clam Digging and Oyster Harvest Permits are now available at the Fisheries Office.

Fisheries staff routinely sample the clams and oysters at the tidelands and analysis by the Washington State Department of Health has shown that the level of the toxin that causes paralytic shellfish poisoning - also known as red tide - is within acceptable limits, allowing harvest of all bivalve species at the beach. Check the Fisheries hotline (1-800-FISH-NOW) to get the latest update.

To harvest oysters, Tribal members - 18 years or older - must first obtain an Oyster Harvest Permit from the Fisheries Office in the Philip Starr Building. Each permit allows the subsistence harvest of 60 oysters on three separate occasions - no commercial harvest is allowed. After using the Oyster Permit for three days of harvest, the permit holder must return it to the Fisheries office for another permit to be issued - so please make sure to return all old Oyster Permits even if you didn't harvest any oysters. This allows MIT Fisheries to monitor and keep an up-to-date inventory of the oyster resource at the tidelands.

For individuals who cannot walk the 1/4-mile trail down to the Tribe's beach, special oyster requests from Tribal Elders and disabled Tribal members can be made at the Fisheries office.

The natural populations of butter clams, little-neck steamers, cockles, and horse clams at the tidelands are in good condition, see the accompanying harvest information or contact Andy Dalton (253-876-3131) about harvesting opportunities. Please remember to always check the hotline (1-800-FISH-NOW) in the morning before going clam digging.

Things You Should Know About Clam Digging

1. Beware: You can get sick from clams harvested at Adelaide Beach, Alki Beach, Redondo, Lincoln Park, Salt Water State Park and all other beaches between Seattle and Tacoma. They are all potentially polluted and are closed by the Department of Health.
2. Tribal members can dig clams at the Tribe's property on Vashon Island. There are lots of butter clams and some steamers, horse clams and cockles at the beach. Directions are provided at the end of this list.
3. Fisheries staff will be routinely testing the clams at the Vashon beach for "red tide" to insure the clams are safe to eat. Always check on the Fish Hotline (1-800-FISH-NOW) for results to see if the Vashon tidelands are open.
4. The Vashon tidelands are rocky and digging clams is more difficult than at sandy or gravel beaches. A clam shovel works well and some folks use a garden fork, but small clam rakes do not work very well.
5. If you want to go to the property by personal boat, the Fisheries Division will provide you with a chart to locate the tidelands and a good place to anchor or beach your boat.
6. The driveway at the property has a locked gate so call the Fisheries Division: 253-876-3131 to get the combination to the locked gate and updated red tide results.
7. Check the ferry schedule that is printed here with the tide charts. There is a fee for the ferry from Fauntleroy (West Seattle) to Vashon.
8. Fisheries staff will also be organizing clam-digging trips to Vashon Island for Tribal members who would like to visit the property for a half-day outing, call Andy at the Fisheries Division, if you are interested.
9. There are various shellfish enhancement projects going on at the Tribe's tidelands. Do not harvest any of the shellfish in areas marked with RED markers.
10. Oysters can be harvested from the area marked with GREEN buoys and only with an Oyster Harvest Permit, which are available from the Fisheries office.

.....CLIP and SAVE.....

Directions to get to the Tribe's Clam Beach on Vashon Island

For Navigation Apps use the address: 13060 Vashon Highway Southwest, Vashon Island, WA.

- Take I-5 north to the West Seattle Bridge and take exit # 163 westbound.
- Go west on the bridge to West Seattle - after two sets of lights you will continue with a slight left (after Trader Joe's) onto Fauntleroy Way SW.
- Follow the signs straight to the Fauntleroy/Vashon ferry.
- Make sure to take the Vashon ferry, not the Southworth ferry.
- On Vashon Island, follow the main road (Vashon Highway) up the hill (south) about 1.87miles from the ferry dock.
- The Tribe's property driveway is on the LEFT side of the road and is marked with a "Muckleshoot Indian Tribe" sign.
- The driveway is a dirt road and there is a locked gate about 100 yards down the driveway. The combination is _ _ _ _ . (Get combination at Fisheries Office before leaving).
- After the gate, follow the driveway all the way down to the small parking lot next to a small shed - just past the portable toilet. The trail to the beach is marked with a sign: "Beach Trail".
- Once down on the beach, to find a good place to dig clams, walk to the right (south) for a few minutes and try digging half-way to the water.
- It is easier to dig clams with a small shovel (not a rake) and remember to protect the young clams by back filling all holes.

Marvin Starr, Sr. retires from Fisheries

Muckleshoot's first fish biologist, Dennis Moore, served as master of ceremonies at the May 29, 2015 retirement party for Marvin Starr, Sr., known to family and friends as Cubby.

"We're here today to honor Senior Fish Culturist Marvin Starr upon the occasion of his retirement," Dennis began. "Marvin and I have gone through a lot together. We've created a lot of fish and a lot of goodwill for this community over the years.

"And this all started, of course, a long time ago. It started right after the Boldt Decision, when the tribe decided that they wanted to get into this fish production business too – being not only a harvester, but going the other way, too and creating some of this fish that we all like to harvest.

"And so, right after that Boldt Decision giving the tribe part of the resource, the tribe started putting together some hatchery stuff, starting to put fish out. And when I came, there were some rudimentary tools being applied to create some of this stuff. I've got some pictures that I put together, and some of them go back to the beginnings of our operations down on the Green River.

"So, anyway, I'll just read this: When I arrived here, Marvin was a commercial fisherman, a logger, a logger, a canoe carver, a fish and meat smoker and jack of many more trades. When he started to work with us in the hatcheries in the late 1970s, one thing was apparent: He held an old-school sense of work ethics – a worker among workers. Just suit up, show up, do your work and learn from others and be part of the team.

"Being a self-starter, Marvin has been a pleasure to work with. He quickly picked up on our fish culture business, has been a valued part of our Keta Creek team, serving as our Coho rearing ponds manager for 20+ years.

"His skills as master net builder and mentor, as well as our resident otter trapper, have kept us in the game against persistent predators. All critters have a right to make a living – just not on our turf.

"Mentoring others and passing on his skills sets Marvin apart from others, and I can say that about a lot of people, but especially someone that has been here as long as Marvin to help us through these periods of development.

"It wasn't easy doing things without any money from the beginning, but as money started coming in, we started applying different technologies, and today we are second to none in the fish production industry, and I'm pretty proud about where we are and what we stand for."

With that, Dennis began to narrate the slide presentation, which showed how the Fisheries Enhancement Program had started with handmade wooden troughs and dumping the young salmon into Burns Creek from garbage pails to the modern state-of-the-art fish hatcheries Muckleshoot has today.

After a brief intermission where everyone dished up, the eloquent personal tributes began, and there were quite a few. A common theme was that, although Cubby has always been a quiet man, he'd been a powerful role model for all the younger men and women that have worked side by side with him. Their feelings ran deep.

Finally, after being presented with two very nice jackets, it was Cubby's turn to get up and say a few words. He acknowledged that he doesn't often speak in public, but then spoke from the heart with both humility and humor. He said that he's always tried to do what's right, and to be a good man. You can't expect more than that from any man, and the love and respect expressed by those present was ample testimony to the fact that he has succeeded.

GED CLOSE-UP:

Rose Aarzate

Our most recent GED graduate, Rose Aarzate, is an 18 year-old enrolled Squaxin Island tribal member with Muckleshoot, Skokomish, and Blackfeet heritage. Rose shares her insights on earning her GED at The Muckleshoot Tribal College this year:

What motivated you to get your GED?

I was motivated to get my GED because I was having a baby and I was planning on giving him a better start. I wanted to finish my education so he could know I did that and want to finish his education, too.

What strategies helped you to earn your GED?

- Working with the teachers (Alicia and Laurie).
- Coming all day.
- Disciplining myself to study all day long and not take breaks.
- Telling myself that "I can do it" and that "I am going to finish" regardless of how tired or exhausted I was.

Rose Aarzate and her new baby

What is your advice for someone who wants to get their GED?

No matter how hard you think it is - just do it. Even when it feels hard, don't give up. However much you don't think you know, you can learn. I thought I couldn't do it because I only got to freshman math and didn't even pass that class. So, if you stick it out, you can pass.

How do you feel now that you have obtained your GED?

I am very motivated. I feel like I can do anything if I work hard. I am proud of myself and super happy. I am looking forward to my next step, which is going to college.

What have you learned about yourself by attaining your GED?

As long as I work hard, I can do anything - I didn't think I could do it before. I am smarter than I think, and I didn't give myself enough credit. I am also stronger than I think. I got my GED while pregnant, going to school (studying for my GED), and working! (She even started labor in the GED classroom!) I had a baby and still came back.

What are you doing now that you have your GED diploma?

I am starting motherhood. I am going to start taking college classes for the summer through Northwest Indian College. I am still trying to figure myself out with being a mom and becoming an adult. I am working on being a better person now.

Could you be next? Come join us at the GED program at Muckleshoot Tribal College. For more information contact Laurie (253-876-3256) or Alicia (253-876-3375) or come by anytime from 9-5, Monday- Friday.

MTS Students Form Teen CERT Club

Approximately six months ago, Sarah Clark came forward with an idea for forming a Teen CERT club at the school. The admin staff, school board, and the kids loved the idea, and great things began to happen here at the school. Sarah was nominated for, and received a Governors Outstanding Citizen Award for her volunteer work.

Teen CERT Group

Hailey Starr, a high school student, was nominated for - and just last week was selected - to serve on the National Youth Council. In July, Hailey and Sarah will travel to Washington DC where she will be sworn in to begin serving as a national delegate.

Last month, a handful of the CERT students were given a chance to travel to Seattle to meet with one of the directors at Amazon, where they took a tour of their offices and received a talk about the aspects of leadership and what it means to be a leader. They then got to tour the research and development lab, and take a look at how games are developed. The students had a lot of outstanding questions, and proved they are eager to learn.

More recently, the students started a campaign to raise money for Nepal, in order to help other students who have suffered a tragedy. This summer, these same students will tour the State Fire Academy in North Bend, take a map and compass course, volunteer at Seafair, and go on a three-day camping trip where they will learn wilderness skills, and participate in leadership drills.

If you are interested in having your high school student join the Teen CERT club, please email Sarah at Sarah.clark@muckleshoottribalschool.org. If you are an adult who is interested in CERT, please email Ada McDaniel at ada.mcdaniel@muckleshoot.nsn.us

MTS honors the late Rachel Givens, releasing 32 balloons on her birthday

On May 16, the Tribal School had a balloon release in honor of Rachel Givens' birthday. Little Dan smudged our balloons and gave an honor song to the four directions. He smudged students and staff who came out.

LeeLee Rojero gave Rachel's favorite song, The Princess Song, as well as The Strengthening song.

The 32 balloons were released after an Honor Song by Little Dan. Arianna Jerry led The Healing song. A handful of students came together in sadness at the end and shared stories of Rachel and tears that turned to smiles and laughter.

Preserving a Unique Piece of Tribal History

The Cross Home pictured here may look a lot like any other house, but it's not really what it seems to be. It has a story to tell. Originally built as a one-room structure in the 1920s by George Cross Sr., it was one of the first reservation homes along R Street. Over the years, it would be expanded with a new addition, and then another and another until, eventually, the original home was completely hidden from view.

When the Cross Home was faced with demolition to make room for a new house, the Muckleshoot Tribe's Preservation Program took note of its historic significance and enacted a plan to preserve it. The fact that it is the childhood home of Muckleshoot's longest-serving Tribal Chair, Virginia Cross, was important, but its significance goes beyond in that it also symbolizes a way of life that was typical of the reservation back when times were much harder.

Humble dwellings like George Cross's one-room homemade house were common in a period when treaty rights were not recognized and wage work was scarce for Indian people. Men found work as loggers and whole families often toiled as migrants, picking whatever crop was in season. Most families ate whatever they could grow in the garden, gather in the mountains, shoot in the woods, or pull out of the river with a gaff hook.

So the house was saved. Preservation staff worked with the Housing Program, Construction Department, Planning, and the Cross family to save a portion of the home for a future exhibit. The original woodwork and craftsmanship of the home represents a rare opportunity to visibly share the stories about early housing and home life on the reservation, and now it will be preserved for future generations.

Marking ceiling boards

Once the newer additions were removed, Michael Sullivan, Scott Anderson and tribal member Will Calvert marked the ceiling boards in numerical order. The placement of the rafters told the story of how the building was constructed from a one room house to the addition of the bedroom. This was evident from a dividing exterior wall from floor to ceiling. The same thing was also present with the addition of the kitchen.

Pictured here is the home without a roof. The original tongue and groove exterior walls are still there, hidden by modern, painted siding. The siding will be left for now to help strengthen and protect the walls during removal and storage.

The inside views show the construction of a reservation home in the 1920s. These two images are part of a lengthy series of images taken to record the construction of this home. The overall preservation project took four weeks from receiving the permit, to documentation, to complete home removal.

RECORDING UNIQUE FEATURES: This old chimney is marked with the date of its construction, July 17, 1939.

Storage

Ceiling boards and rafters were carefully removed and placed in dry cargo storage unit. The unit will be monitored for moisture. Walls were removed in sections and stored whole.

The Preservation Program would like to thank to Brian Ward from Construction Department for coordinating the project, and Scott Anderson and crew who kept up the pace while carefully disassembling the home, and to Melissa Calvert, for overall project management.

A special thanks to the Florence and Virginia Cross family for helping document the home, and – most of all – to Ken Cross for allowing this to take place on his site.

Can you help us with images of the Muckleshoot Reservation?

If you would like to share, contact Donna Hogerhuis at 253-876-3273. Original photos can be scanned while you wait and returned back to you. The program can also provide you with a CD of your family images.

Alzheimer's Disease Detection and Awareness

Alzheimer's disease is the most common cause of dementia among older people. It is an irreversible, progressive brain disease that slowly destroys memory and thinking skills. Even the simplest tasks become difficult for a person battling the disease. Scientists are not entirely clear on what causes Alzheimer's, but believe it is likely attributed to a mix of genetic, environmental, and life-style factors.

Today, over 5 million Americans are affected by Alzheimer's disease. Every 67 seconds someone in the United States develops the disease. It is the 6th leading cause of death in the United States. Approximately 500,000 people die each year because they have Alzheimer's. Nationally, it is estimated that 3.2 million women, compared to 1.8 million men 65 years old and over have Alzheimer's. Women have a higher risk of developing Alzheimer's disease than men do. Females have a one in six chance compared to males at one in 11.

The 10 early detection signs of Alzheimer's disease:

- Memory loss that disrupts daily life.
- Challenges in planning or solving problems.
- Difficulty completing familiar tasks at home, at work or at leisure.
- Confusion with time or place.

- Trouble understanding visual images and spatial relationships.
- New problems with words in speaking or writing.
- Misplacing things and losing the ability to retrace steps.
- Decreased or poor judgment.
- Withdrawal from work or social activities.
- Changes in mood and personality.

There is no cure for Alzheimer's disease, but there are available treatments. Unfortunately, these treatments are unable to stop Alzheimer's from progressing; however, they do temporarily slow the worsening of the dementia symptoms. Research continues in this field throughout the world. The goals are to eventually find better ways to treat the disease, delay its onset, and prevent it from developing. For more information on Alzheimer's disease go to the website www.alz.org or contact the helpline at 800-272-3900.

7 Foods Not to Refrigerate

1. Bananas—Storing bananas in the refrigerator can actually disrupt the ripening process. In fact, once refrigerated, a banana may never be able to resume the ripening process even if returned to room temperature.

2. Sweet Potatoes—When exposed to cold temperatures, starches found in potatoes will turn to sugar, disrupting their flavor and texture, not to mention increasing their sugar content.

3. Tomatoes—Tomatoes actually lose their flavor and become mushy when refrigerated.

4. Apples—Apples lose their texture and flavor when refrigerated. Instead, place an apple in the fridge about 30 minutes before eating if you prefer your apples cold.

5. Onions—Storing onions in the fridge cause onions to be soggy and also causes the rest of food to taste and smell like onions. Try storing them in a paper bag (within a cool, dark cabinet) for maximum shelf-life.

6. Avocados—much like the banana, refrigeration shuts down an avocado's ripening enzymes.

7. Coffee—Contrary to popular belief, coffee is best stored at room temperature to allow the natural oils within the coffee bean to activate its pungent aromatic scent. Refrigeration can actually cause coffee to absorb odors from other foods in your fridge.

5 Tips for Making an Address Change

1. Verify your address—Double check your new address and find out how the post office codes your mail. Check street and city names against what you have. This will also give you the opportunity to obtain your zip + 4 code if you don't already have it. By using zip + 4, your mail will be delivered faster and more accurately.

2. Choose Temporary or Permanent—A permanent COA allows your mail to be forwarded to your new permanent address for a specified period of time. A temporary COA allow you to have mail forwarded to your temporary address for a specified period of time, from 15 days to 6 months.

3. Let the Post Office Know—Submit your address change via internet, by phone, or fill out Form 3575 at the post office.

4. Make Sure Entire Household is Covered—Changing your address with US Postal Service, it's important to include the names of everyone moving with you. If you only include your name, your other household member's mail won't be forwarded

5. Make a List—Notify everyone of your new address, this includes everyone you do business with or care to keep in touch with. You'll want to include bank and credit card companies, doctors and dentists, utilities (such as gas, telephone, & electric), magazines and newspapers, clubs and associations, your employer and government offices, family and friends.

EFFIE'S CORNER OF FAITH

"Envision"

Envision means to dream, imagine have an idea or revelation.

I want to paint a thought in your mind to ponder over.

Have you ever had a dream or idea that you thought about but looked impossible? Did you give up or hesitate to go forward with it? Don't stop – go forward -- take action.

Envision your impossible to possible, drop it down in your heart. Picture it in your mind .Do what you have to do to accomplish your dream.

Restrain yourself from that which stops you from becoming and doing all you were meant to do and become in life. Keep your eyes on the vision.

Set aside personal problems that hinder you. I challenge you to put God in the equation. For with God All things are possible.

What do you picture for yourself, family, home or job? Continue to invest in your hope and vision then pursue it with dedication. But neglect not your loved ones in the pursuit.

Envision your dream as done. Formulate a picture of success not failure. See it completed and focus and work to that goal. Don't just see it, Do it. We have become comfortable saying one thing and doing another. All of us have at one time or another have done this. Do what you say and say what you do write your vision down, read it daily, speak it to yourself, pray about it and soon with effort, time and dedication it becomes a reality.

My encouragement to you is this, Capture your vision. Focus on it so it isn't lost. Drop it in your heart. Ask God for strength to pursue it and complete it. Nothing can stop a determined person but self.

Psalms 37:4

Delight yourself in the Lord,

And he will give you the desires of your heart.

*In His Love Always,
Effie Tull*

Routine Eye Exam vs Diabetic Eye Exam

Routine Eye Exam:

A routine eye exam is for people who have no known eye disease or symptoms of disease. Your eyes will be examined for any needed correction (glasses or contacts) or any potential indicators of eye disease. If the Doctor finds anything abnormal during your vision exam, further testing of a medical nature may be needed.

Diabetic Eye Exam:

This is a medically necessary annual comprehensive examination for people that have been diagnosed with Diabetes. The patient must be dilated so the Doctor can check for Diabetic Retinopathy, a potentially blinding eye disease. During this exam the Doctor also checks for visual fluctuations and swelling of the eye due to unstable blood sugars.

UV AWARENESS

ADVANCED DIRECTIVES

From the desk of Terry Zimmerman Medical Social Worker

What is an Advanced Directive?

This is a way for you to tell your family, friend and Health Care Providers what kind of medical treatments you DO or DO NOT want if you become unable to speak for yourself in the event of a medical emergency.

The Advanced Directive generally includes the following:

A Living Will (also known as Health Care Directive):

This is a written or printed document that clarifies whether you wish to withhold or withdraw "life sustaining procedures" if you are in a terminal or permanent unconscious medical state.

A Durable Power of Attorney:

This documentation allows you to choose someone to make MEDICAL DECISIONS for you if you are not able to do so for yourself. You may specify what types of decisions your designated contact can make for you.

This type of advanced decision making and documentation can be an important resource in the event of a medical emergency and it can reduce the stress that is often felt by friends and family members at these critical times.

NARCAN Kits are available for Heroin/Pill Overdose

What is Narcan?

Effective and safe way to save someone's life who is experiencing an overdose. Narcan is a drug that can reverse an opioid overdose. It blocks opioids from attaching to opioid receptors in the brain. Narcan comes in the form of a nasal spray. It can be assembled in seconds. Absorbed immediately. Narcan is available to anyone who wants it. It is free to Muckleshoot Tribal and Community members and legal to carry.

What is an Overdose?

An overdose happens when the body has more drugs in its system than it can handle. Opioid overdoses happen when there are so many opioids or a mixture of opioids and other depressants (downers) in the body that the brain shuts down breathing. If someone cannot breathe or is not breathing enough, then oxygen cannot get to the brain. After a very short time, the heart stops. This can lead to unconsciousness, coma, and even death.

Opioid overdoses do not happen in an instant. They often happen as a process -- someone slowly stops breathing. Many times, overdoses can happen 1 to 3 hours after the drug was first used. It is rare that someone is "found dead with a needle in his arm."

Most overdoses happen when other people are there. This means there is a chance to prevent harm or death by using rescue breathing and/or Narcan when someone overdoses.

NARCAN Kits are available at Muckleshoot Behavioral Health and the Pharmacy

What is Suboxone?

Suboxone is a partial opioid agonist (it can both activate and block opioid receptors), its opioid effects are limited compared with those produced by full opioid agonist, such as oxycodone or heroin. Suboxone also contains naloxone, an opioid antagonist (prevents drugs from binding to opioid receptors).

Who is Prescribed Suboxone?

- Opioid Addicts (pain pills and heroin)
- Chronic Pain/Pain Management Patients

Why is Suboxone Safe?

Suboxone at the appropriate dose may be used to:

- Reduce illicit opioid use.
- Help patients stay in treatment.
- Decreasing and/or removing cravings for opioids.
- Suppressing symptoms of opioid withdrawal.
- Is less sedating.
- Provides the patient with limited, if any euphoria
- Offers less potential for abuse.
- Provides manageable pain relief for chronic pain patients.
- Can be a good relapse prevention tool.

Who Prescribes Suboxone?

- Dr. Jake Bergstrom, Medical Director Muckleshoot Medical Clinic
- Dr. Sandra Ritland, Lead Physician Muckleshoot Medical Clinic

Treatment

Treatment is a big part of the physician plan with each patient. The behavioral issues and lifestyle changes that are necessary for a stable recovery program are very important and also need to be addressed. Thus, Suboxone maintenance is ideally provided along with outpatient chemical dependency treatment.

Muckleshoot Behavioral Health Programs has a very successful treatment program for those who are prescribed Suboxone. It is very structured educational/counseling programs who have seen many successes in the program.

Goals in Treatment

- Education
- Relapse Prevention
- Build a Support System
- Help with emotional Issues
- Determine how Long a patient will continue to take suboxone

How does Thoroughbred racing help our Tribe and our State?

We're proud to add Emerald Downs into our family of entertainment venues in the Pacific Northwest.

And we look forward to bringing Washington's premier Thoroughbred racing facility the same commitment to excellence that we've brought to the Muckleshoot Casino, Bingo Hall, White River Amphitheatre and Salish Lodge.

These and other investments made by the Muckleshoot Tribe do more than provide jobs and millions of dollars to the Washington economy. They also provide us the resources to help ensure the education, health and human service needs of our Tribe continue to be met.

LOZIER CLAN GATHERS AT THE RIVER

This is a picture of the Lozier Clan up White River for Mothers Day Gathering. Three of the girls are missing – do you know which three? I will give you a hint... they are not in this picture. If you notice the holes between us you will see where they belong. I also did a Burn and fed all of our Ancestors that have gone on . It was a great day on the River with a drop in the bucket of Our Lozier Family. It was GREAT!!!

Here is another one of our Lozier Family with the kids in the River behind us. Yes, it was great!!! I had four generations of my family there.
