MUCKLESHOOT ARTISTS SHINE

By Donny Stevenson, Artist and HR Director

On July 25th, 2017, Andy Eccleshall, a local Muralist from Edmonds, began painting the exterior wall between the Muckleshoot Casino's Poker Room and HR offices with a design I had drafted approximately a year before. It was amazing to see Southern Salish art represented on the Casino that has helped bring such financial success and opportunity to our community and people – especially because it had come from my very own hand!

I had chills as I drove past for the first time – such a sense of pride and humility to see an image rooted in our traditional artistic style, particularly one that I had originally painted. I acknowledge my personal bias here, but I have always believed that Salish art is the most beautiful style in the whole world – such rich and complex imagery resulting from such simple basic principles.

Three basic shapes make up the entire visual toolkit for Salish artists: the ovoid (circle or oval); the trigon (three-sided shapes like triangles); and crescents (wedges like the moon). From these three shapes and a creative use of both positive and negative space, some of the most visually striking images can be created, images that represent our traditional stories and oral history in ways written stories

Farmed Atlantic Salmon Escape into Salish Sea

On Monday, August 21st – the same day as the solar eclipse – a massive escape of farmed Atlantic Salmon from a net pen near Anacortes was reported. The owners, Cooke Aquaculture Pacific, initially stated that extremely high tides and rough seas dislodged the pens from their moorings.

It seemed as if they were blaming the eclipse itself for somehow causing the breach, but this turned out to be a “dog ate my homework” approach as a check of tide guides soon noted that the tidal variations that day, while large, were far from unusual, as were the wind and waves.

First reports estimated that 4,000-5,000 of the 8 to 10 pound fish had escaped, but it was later learned that the entire net pen operation, containing 305,000 non-native salmon, had experienced catastrophic structural failure and the total number of escapees was much, much larger.

Fishers are being urged to take as many of the runaway fish as possible. Those on the scene report that they are easy to catch, but impossible to sell, since no buyers are taking them.

The Muckleshoot Fisheries Commission has been an outspoken opponent of Atlantic Salmon aquaculture in the Salish Sea since the industry's very beginnings in the area.

Canoe Family Journeys to Campbell River, BC

On July 19th the Muckleshoot Tribe welcomed canoes from the South Sound ashore at Alki Beach and, after hosting them that night, the MIT Canoe Family joined them the following morning, embarking upon one of the most adventurous of all its journeys on the high seas.

Their Destination: Campbell River, British Columbia – about halfway up the east coast of Vancouver Island. Their Hosts: the We Wai Kai and Wei Wai Kum First Nations, who are the southernmost bands of what history books refer to as the Kwakwilt culture, famed for its totem poles, lavish potlachs and elaborate ceremonial mask dances.

The Canoe Family was prepared for an exciting journey and they weren't disappointed. In fact, it was a little bit too exciting at times, but we'll get to that...

Muckleshoot usually travels the same routes as its South Sound neighbors, but this year different tribes took different routes. Some went into the Strait of Juan de Fuca and crossed over from Lower Elwha, while others chose to navigate through the San Juan Islands.

Muckleshoot hugged the Salish Sea's eastern shore, stopping at Suquamish, Tulalip, Swinom-

Chairman Virginia Cross, Councilmember Kerri Marquez and Vice-Chair Anita Mitchell were on the shores of Tye Point in Campbell River, BC to welcome the Muckleshoot Canoe Family on August 5, 2017. Councilmember Jaison Elkins also attended. Muckleshoot's Eagle Spirit canoe and its crew can be seen on the left.

ish, Samish, Lummi and Birch Bay before being welcomed to Canada by the Squamish First Nation. This is a common route in some years, but this time it proved to be the route less traveled, with only a few canoes at some stops. This made it more intimate and enabled them to strengthen their bonds as a family before joining the large fleet of canoes for the final legs of the journey.

The Canoe Family's strength and training was severely tested when they encountered powerful tides, 25 knot winds and five foot waves off Neck Point on their way to Nanoose, swamping the canoe and sending the pullers into the sea. Their cold water training served them well, though, and with bit of help from the RCMP all were soon safe. It was a harrowing experience, but sharing it together served to further strengthen their family bonds.

On August 4, they arrived at Cape Mudge on Quadra Island, the soft landing site, powering their way through tricky waters while many other canoes chose to be towed. The following day, their northward journey of 300 nautical miles was completed as the Eagle Spirit, along with about 90 other canoes, glided ashore at Tye Point in Campbell River. Canoe Captain Will Bill Jr. picks up the story in our 8-page “Journey to Campbell River” special section.

Gold Rush Dancer romps in $200,000 Longacres Mile

AUBURN, Wash. – Returning to the track where his career began two years ago, Gold Rush Dancer raced to a dominant 4 ¼-length victory Sunday, August 13th in the 82nd running of the $200,000 Longacres Mile (G3) at Emerald Downs.

Ridden by 19-year-old Evin Roman, Gold Rush Dancer ran one mile in a very sharp time of 1:33.85, the fastest of this year's meet. Vann Belvoir was the winning trainer for owner/breeder John Parker of Lakebay, Wash.

A 4-year-old California-bred colt, Gold Rush Dancer earned $110,000 to push his lifetime bankroll to $510,613. His record is 6 wins, 3 seconds and 3 thirds in 18 starts, including five stakes race wins – three in California as well as the Longacres Mile and Gottstein Futurity at Emerald Downs.

Mach One Rules, ridden by Isaias Enriquez, rallied from sixth to edge Dedicated to You for second by a head. Winner of the Budweiser and Mt. Rainier Stakes, Mach One Rules was a slight favorite over Gold Rush Dancer in the wagering and earned $40,000.

Dedicated to You, with Leonel Camacho-Flores riding, held on well for third at odds of 82-1, while Barkley turned in another solid effort for fourth. Point Piper, the defending champion, finished fifth, and 2014-15 Mile winner Stryker Phd closed ground to finish sixth.

Seattle Serenade, third choice at 5-1, surprisingly showed no speed and finished seventh, while Papa Frank, Chief of Staff, Bistraya, Togammashousewego and Black Sona completed the order of finish.

Vann Belvoir becomes the first person to win the Longacres Mile as both a jockey and trainer, and Sunday's victory was never in doubt.

“When he broke well and was in a good position going into the first turn I thought he had a good chance,” said Roman, a native of Puerto Rico and current leading rider at Del Mar. “When we started going down the backstretch I had a lot of horse. When we hit the half-mile pole I knew he was the winner.”

Belvoir said the Mile victory culminated a plan that began last winter.

“This was our goal for a long time,” he said. “(Gold Rush Dancer) had no issues but we gave him a break. This was his third start back and he ran his best race.”

For Parker, leading owner the last two years at Emerald Downs, winning The Mile is a great thrill.

“My horse has been awesome, and Vann has done a great job with him the last two years,” Parker said. “It was awesome to have the horse come back home to win the big race.”

After the day's racing concluded, Parker was seen celebrating the victory by treating his entire barn staff and their families, 30-35 people, to dinner at Las Margaritas.

Town Hall Meeting Re-Cap

Ken Lewis conducting his presentation

On July 17th, 2017, a Town Hall Meeting was conducted at the Muckleshoot Elders' Complex. The meeting served as an opportunity for tribal members to learn about Muckleshoot tribal land holdings and to ask any questions about tribal fee land, tribal trust land, and individual trust land that they may have had.

Director of Property Acquisition Ken Lewis and Realty Administrator of Fee to Trust Conversions Bill Holway were present to brief participants on some of the terminology and fundamentals that are necessary for understanding Muckleshoot land holdings and the interactions between the tribe and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

The meeting began with a brief history of the Muckleshoot Tribe and how the reservation has developed since the signing of the Treaty of Medicine Creek and the Treaty of Point Elliot. In 1971, the Muckleshoot Tribe held a ¼ acre of trust land; today, the tribe holds 956 acres of trust land. The land acquisition priorities were explained to the group through the following list: housing, treaty rights, economic development, economic investments, conservation, recreation, reservation expansion, and general welfare.

Ken and Bill went on to explain that the reservation is composed of six sections of land, composed of approximately 640 acres per section. A breakdown of each section was provided to the group with opportunities for questions in between. Ken and Bill also provided the land ownership status of the Muckleshoot Tribe as of July 1st, 2017, which included fee and trust land both on and off the reservation.

At the conclusion of the presentation, a question and answer session was held for community members to voice their comments, concerns, and request clarification on any part of the presentation that may not have been clear. Some topics of community concern consisted of timelines for economic development, land boundaries for trust eligibility, the possibility of developing tribal apartments, acquisition budgets, and costs associated with elders' homes.

As usual, the meeting concluded at 8 pm sharp with opportunities for conversation and refreshments provided afterward.

Berlinda with Raymond and Mike

For You Berlinda,

I'm thinking of you and remembering the times we visited and talked of many things when you then at that time worked in the original Muckleshoot Tribal School Building Library.

My mind wonders back to how we would talk about the children and the joy of watching them grow year to year. Their inquisitive minds and laughter that spread through the halls

Your Library wasn't always the quiet one that is portrayed, but life was happening all around you and you totally enjoyed it.

You also loved to the children and were ever so patient with all their questions or excuses why they forgot their books at home.

You would greet parents or anyone who happened to pass by your library door.

What I can say from your heart is this: You were a wonderful asset to the Muckleshoot community and you sowed many seeds that grew a harvest.

I'm thankful for your life and all the love and sharing of it. This is your gift of love you have left in our hearts and memories. You have left your footprint on your community and you shall be missed but not forgotten.

Forever in Jesus Love,

Effie Tull

Dear Berlinda,

We as a staff at the Elders Complex are so grateful for you and Grant for all the time and effort so freely given to the Elders Program. The joy of having both of you on trips and being a part of our community, in doing so, you both became a part of us more than they could ever imagine.

My hope is that Grant will continue to bring that unselfish love and that spirit of giving freely to any and all of those they have touched. We are enriched by such a lovely, caring couple.

With fond and loving memories,

Elders Complex Staff

THINGS ARE HAPPENING AT THE BLUE BARN

By Joan Green-Ferguson

Behavioral Health is offering state of the art equine services to the Blue Barn. In addition to equine assisted mental health counseling, grief/loss therapy, and anger management work, we also sponsor equine facilitated learning opportunities, such as Muckleshoot's own 4H club (Muckleshoot Sya-Ya) and 'Ride and Shine' (a program for those interested in horsemanship).

Ride and Shine attendees participated in a weeklong camp that culminated with the 2nd Annual Ride and Shine Horse Show.

The primary focus at the Blue Barn is the Behavioral Health Program's Equine-Assisted Counseling Services, which is offered to adults, youth, and families. Behavioral health staff members, Joan Green-Ferguson and Karyn Cross-Sarabia, are certified in this therapeutic, equine assisted approach and obtain ongoing training annually.

Research supports that equine-assisted therapy is an effective treatment for a wide spectrum of mental health issues. Information is available at the Equine Assisted Growth and Learning Association website (EAGALA.ORG).

Joan

The EAGALA Model for Equine Assisted Counseling

Equine-Assisted Counseling can help clients grow more effectively and quickly than other clinical and psycho-educational approaches.

People typically learn best through doing. Life lessons take deeper root when individuals both understand them in their heads and experience them in their bodies. Working with horses in real-time is engaging and hands-on. The experience is immediate and fully felt. Clients can participate in counseling sessions while interacting with any one or all of the available therapy horses and ponies at the Blue Barn.

Karyn

Horses are an integral part of the therapy team. Horses are powerful animals; interactions with them create a natural opportunity for clients to overcome fear and develop confidence. They are social animals and have defined roles in their herds.

Like people, they have different relationships with each other and have distinct personalities, attitudes, and moods. They are sensitive to non-verbal communication; they offer the distinctive combination of fearfulness and power, which allies with their natural ability to mirror our feelings and nonverbal communication.

There are a variety of activities and interactions with the horses including grooming, games, mindfulness practices, learning coping skills to address stress and anxiety, trauma recovery through the healing power of the horse, and learning the art of non-verbal communication. All activities focus on experiences in the present moment.

During sessions, clients are encouraged to use interpretation and insight so they can develop new ways of interacting, that can then be generalized to their human relationships. Horses respond to the immediacy of the client's behavior and they do so without assumption or criticism. When interacting with people, horses offer immediate, nonverbal feedback. Engaging with another being that is reflective of our presence in the world can be a powerful experience in the counseling process.

Equine counseling addresses all symptoms including the following: Trauma, depression, anxiety, behavioral problems, ADD/ADHD, impulsivity, PTSD, addiction, family conflict, and communication. The equine assisted counseling program here at Muckleshoot is demonstrating strong positive outcomes for people. If you are interested in participating in equine counseling please contact your Equine counseling team at BHP and FYS. (see below)

Lovely Lavender Lady, Kathryn Daniels

She grows a garden and creates products too!

By U R I Israel

Kathryn Daniels inspired the Muckleshoot Elders In-Home Support Services Program this past winter with the medicinal powers of the lavender plant. Since lavender oil is very expensive, it was decided that Kathryn would grow her own lavender and make her own lavender oil and sachets.

With the help of two grants (the Awesome Grant for Moo Doo and the Tacoma Garden Club Grant for lavender plants) and the determination of Kathryn and her caregiver Dawn Phillips, Kathryn has accomplished her goal.

She is pictured using the mortar and pestle to grind the lavender buds, which will then be used to begin the process of making her own oil. Lavender was very popular last winter with elders as a sleep aid and calming influence (when used in a room diffuser for aroma.)

Kathryn is our Gardener of the Month and she will be selling her products this fall and/or winter at events around Muckleshoot. Stay tuned, the Lovely Lavender Lady Kathryn Daniels is spending summer and fall creating products for health and wellness.

High School 21+ (HS21+) FAQ's

What are the credit requirements for the program?
The credit requirements vary depending on the year you were supposed to have graduated. The program accepts students with no more than six core credits still needed to graduate. For example, if you were supposed to graduate in 2010, you would have needed 20 credits. You could join the program if you had obtained at least 14 core credits in high school.

What types of credits count toward graduation?

Eligible credits must come from classes accepted by Washington State for graduation. Unfortunately, some classes such as life skills, some electives, and labs don't count towards this program.

How do I find out how many credits I have?

The first step is to get a copy of your high school transcript from the last high school you attended. This will show how many credits you earned, what year you were set to graduate, and which classes you were given credit for. After obtaining your transcript, come and meet with an instructor to verify qualification and register.

How do I make up missing credits?

This program is "competency" based which means you are given credit for those subjects you can prove you can do. Competency can be proven in many different ways; assigned coursework, completed tests, certificates, certifications, licenses, videos, writing, directed exercises, previous GED tests passed, online, classes, work history, self-employment, etc...

Are the Washington State tests still required to graduate?

The tests are not required once a student is 21 years of age, so no additional tests are needed to graduate in this program.

If I need a class, where will I take it?

If it is decided that a class is needed, it can be taken wherever it is offered, or online. In most cases, we can make arrangements for you to finish everything here at the Muckleshoot Tribal College (MIT) with the two instructors. Taking classes through Renton Technical College (RTC) is also an option.

What support will I get while in this program?

Because it is a partnership with Renton Technical College, one of their instructors will direct you on what you need to prove competency. They will also be available in person once a month here at MIT. Also, the instructors here at MIT, Cary and Amy, are available to assist you in your assignments from RTC and collecting what you need for submittal and presentation to the RTC instructor.

Who issues my high school diploma?

The high school diploma itself is issued through Renton Technical College in accordance with Washington State requirements. After completing your credits, a diploma will be mailed to you in 4 to 6 weeks.

What is the time frame for completing this program?

There is no set answer to this question. This will depend on the amount and kinds of credits you need and also, the time and effort put into finishing the assignments given by the instructor. The average time is about three + months.

Are there any costs?

The program is free to Muckleshoot Tribal Members. If you still have questions, feel free to contact Mitzi Judge, 253-876-3395, Cary Hutchinson, 253-876-3375, or Amy Maharaj, 253-876-3256.

Students can earn an AA through the on-line Reservation-Based, Community Determined Program. Once they earn their AA, or once they have 90 transferable credits, students can transfer into the Reservation-Based B.A. program. Designed for place-bound students with connections to tribal communities, the program has been "reservation based" from the beginning with classes held on Indian reservations in western Washington.

How You Can Grow Your Social Security Benefits Beyond Retirement Age

By Kirk Larson, Social Security Washington Public Affairs Specialist

For more and more Americans, reaching retirement age no longer means the end of an active working life. Many people are choosing to work past the age of 65, according to the Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

If you're willing and able, maintaining gainful employment later in life could go a long way toward ensuring a secure future for you and your family. Besides providing you with additional income to pay your bills, extending your employment or working for yourself could boost your lifetime Social Security benefits.

Here's how:

Waiting to claim your Social Security retirement benefits could grow them by up to 32 percent. Through delayed retirement credits, your monthly benefit amount increases by about eight percent for each year you wait between your full retirement age and 70. Full retirement age is between 65 and 67, depending on when you were born. To learn more about delayed retirement credits, please visit www.socialsecurity.gov/planners/retire/delayret.html.

You get credits on your earnings record for each year of additional work income. Once you start receiving retirement benefits, we'll automatically review your earnings record each year to determine if you're entitled to an adjustment. When we calculate your retirement benefit amount, we use your best 35 years of earnings. We'll increase your benefit amount if your new year of earnings is higher than one of the years we used to calculate your initial benefit amount. To see how we calculate your benefits, visit www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs/EN-05-10070.pdf.

An increased benefit amount for yourself could mean more support for your family, too, through Social Security spousal benefits, child benefits, and survivor benefits.

We also encourage you to set up your own my Social Security account so you can verify your lifetime earnings record, check the status of an application for benefits, and manage them after you're receiving them. You can create your personal my Social Security account today at www.socialsecurity.gov/myaccount.

Social Security is committed to helping you prepare for a secure today and tomorrow for you, your family, and future family. You can access all of our retirement resources at www.socialsecurity.gov/planners/retire.

SOCIAL SECURITY COVERS YOU WHEN YOU'RE ABROAD

By Kirk Larson, Social Security Washington Public Affairs Specialist

Social Security has you covered, even outside our nation's borders. We're with you through life's journey, even if you're traveling outside the United States. Over half a million people who live outside the United States receive some kind of Social Security benefit, including retired and disabled workers, as well as spouses, widows, widowers, and children.

If you're a U.S. citizen, you may receive your Social Security payments outside the United States as long as you are eligible. When we say you are "outside the United States," we mean you're not in one of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, Guam, the Northern Mariana Islands, or American Samoa. Once you've been outside the United States for at least 30 days in a row, we consider you to be outside the country.

Whether you're off to Europe, or some other part of the world, you may be able to receive your Social Security benefits even while you're outside the United States. If you receive Supplemental Security Income (SSI), you cannot receive benefits if you're outside of the United States for a month or more. If you aren't a U.S. citizen or you do not meet one of the conditions for continued payments, we will stop your payments after you have been outside the United States for six full calendar months.

If you're traveling outside the U.S. for an extended amount of time, it's important that you tell Social Security the date you plan to leave and the date you plan to come back, no matter how long you expect your travel to last. If you've worked in both the United States and another country, it may be possible for your credits to combine for a larger benefit. Currently, there are 25 countries with such international agreements with the United States. To find out if you have qualifying work in a country with such an agreement, visit www.socialsecurity.gov/international.

You can use this online tool to find out if you can continue to receive your Social Security benefits if you are outside the United States or are planning to go outside the United States at www.socialsecurity.gov/international/payments_outsideUS.html.

WORKING WITH THOSE WHO PROVIDE CARE: SOCIAL SECURITY'S REPRESENTATIVE PAYEE PROGRAM

By Kirk Larson, Social Security Western Washington Public Affairs Specialist

According to the Census Bureau, there are nearly 57 million people living with disabilities in the United States. Thirty percent of American adults help provide care for a sick or disabled family member.

Social Security works closely with caregivers through our Representative Payee Program. A representative payee is someone who receives and oversees the Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits for an adult or child who cannot manage his or her benefits.

A payee's main duties are to use the benefits to pay for the current and future needs of the beneficiary, and properly save any benefits not needed to meet current needs. A payee must also keep records of expenses. When we request a report, a payee must provide an accounting to us of how he or she used or saved the benefits. You can learn more about our Representative Payee Program at www.socialsecurity.gov/payee.

A representative payee is usually a trusted family member or friend of the beneficiary, but when friends or family are not able to serve as representative payees, Social Security looks for qualified individuals or organizations to represent the beneficiary. Being an authorized representative, having power of attorney, or a joint bank account with the beneficiary is not the same as being a payee. These arrangements do not give legal authority to negotiate and manage a beneficiary's Social Security and/or SSI benefits. In order to be a payee, you must apply for and be appointed by Social Security.

Currently, more than six million payees manage $80 billion in Social Security and Supplemental Security Income benefits for more than 3.5 million adults and 4 million children determined to be incapable of managing their benefits. Projections indicate that the number of people needing assistance will increase dramatically in the coming decades as the population ages.

If you are concerned that someone you know has become incapable of managing or directing the management of his or her benefits, please call us at 1-800-772-1213 to request an appointment to discuss your concerns.

Shirley Goodwin Retires

Shirley Goodwin concluded her career as a licensed practical nurse for the Muckleshoot Elders In-Home Support Services program on August 11th, 2017.

The MEIHSS staff honored Shirley with an intimate retirement party to celebrate her years of service to the elders of the Muckleshoot Indian Tribe.

Surrounded by friends and co-workers, Shirley was wrapped in a blanket, as a gesture of thanks for her dedication and hard work.

The group enjoyed a taco-bar style lunch while they joked and told their favorite stories of Shirley's past. Thank you for all you have done Shirley!

ATTENTION!

Reserved parking at the Muckleshoot Casino is for Elders 60 years and older. When utilizing reserved parking, make sure that your pass (pictured above) is clearly visible on the dashboard of your vehicle.

The location of the reserved parking lots will be inside the casino garage on the first level (floor level), at row A (row closest to door 4 entrance.)

There will be "Reserved Tribal Elder Parking" signs for easy identification.

PLEASE HAVE PASS VISIBLE ON DASHBOARD WHEN PARKED

This tool will help you find out if your retirement, disability, or survivor's payments will continue as long as you are eligible, stop after six consecutive calendar months, or if certain country-specific restrictions apply.

When you live outside the United States, we send you a questionnaire periodically. Your answers will help us figure out if you still are eligible for benefits. Return the questionnaire to the office that sent it as soon as possible. If you don't, your payments will stop. In addition to responding to the questionnaire, notify us promptly about changes that could affect your payments.

You can also read the publication titled Your Payments While You Are Outside the United States at www.socialsecurity.gov/pubs.

Securing today and tomorrow is our priority, no matter where you might be living.

Missing Teeth?

The MIT Dental Clinic has been fortunate enough to contract with Dr. Scott Andrews since October, 2015. Dr. Andrews is a dentist who has specialized in removable prosthetics (dentures and partial dentures) since 1980.

Dr. Andrews is a graduate of the University of Washington School of Dentistry, where he currently teaches removable prosthetics to dental students. He has contracted with 55 different dental facilities, including 3 Native Tribes. In his career he has made over 34,000 dentures and partial dentures. That is a lot of smiles he has created!

Missing teeth can greatly affect your ability to speak, eat and smile, that is why our dental team is happy to have Dr. Andrews come to the MIT Dental Clinic and provide our patients with the highest quality dentures and partial dentures.

What are dentures and partial dentures?

A denture is a removable appliance that replaces your missing natural teeth to restore your smile and help your facial/ jaw muscles to work properly, which will benefit your appearance and your health. Dentures make it easier to eat and speak than it would be without teeth.

Dentures are made out of an acrylic base that supports fabricated teeth. The base is shaded to match the natural color of your gum tissue. Dentures are made to match the structure and form of your individual mouth, and will help maintain the look and structural integrity of your face. Dr. Andrews works closely with his lab technician to shape the dentures to exact proportions based on precise impressions of your mouth.

A partial denture is recommended when you still have natural, healthy, teeth remaining in your mouth, but need replacement of one or more missing teeth. A partial denture only covers part of your mouth and stays in place with clasps that secure to your adjacent natural teeth. Your MIT dentists try to keep as many teeth as possible in your mouth. The more natural teeth you have, the more stable your bite is.

Your MIT dentists and Dr. Andrews are eager to serve you, please call MIT dental clinic to schedule an appointment for an exam and consultation.

Child Find Screening

What is a Child Find Screening?

Screening is a free check of your child's development—including:

- Large muscle development
- Eye-hand coordination (fine motor skills)
- Communication
- Concepts
- Personal-social skills, self help skills
- academic skills

What is the purpose of a Child Find Screening?

The purpose of the screen is to identify any factors that may interfere with your child's learning, growth, and development. The screening is also provided to help parents identify their child's strengths and weaknesses and provide home suggestions.

What happens during a Child Find Screening?

During the screening, your young child may stack small blocks, cut with a scissors, draw, count, name colors, jump, and have fun! For older children and teens it may include academic, social and emotional, communication screening. Following the screening, a trained professional will talk with you about the results of the screening. You will have the opportunity to ask any questions about your child's development. You may be given home suggestions, referred on for further testing, or be scheduled to have skills rechecked at a later date. The screening process usually takes about 45 minutes.

Who is eligible to be screened?

Any child, from birth through 21, whose family or care givers would like more information about their child's development. All school districts within Washington State have Child Find screenings available. If your family is living in a temporary situation, you may contact the district where you are staying to attend a screening.

Where can I go for screening?

Eye's Ever Upward

Greetings to each and every one!

I've been on a break for two months, but I'm back now to continue sharing my thoughts and stories regarding life and its challenges.

This month, my article is titled 'Eye's Ever Upward.' As anyone who reads my articles knows, I'm a person who loves the stories given to me from nature that God presents to us on a daily basis. You might say life is a wondrous play on a stage, and we are the audience, partaking of the message from the story being told. 'Eye's Ever Upward' is just one example.

Here is how I see God through my eyes. As I continually look upward, I see blue skies, clouds, and at times, a gentle breeze. Sometimes the sky is overcast gray and there is a downpouring of rain that washes and refreshes the earth. I simply rejoice in my spirit at the wonder of what I see and feel, that comes from the heavens as I look up with a thankful heart at the precious gifts given so freely.

I encourage you to look up each day and see the story being staged in the skies before you. Take time to hear the story that the sky speaks and allow God to drop into your spirit. Feel how much you are loved; He sees you. Take a moment or two out of your day and gaze at His picture, painted on behalf of you and mankind. Join me with 'Eye's Ever Upward'

Thoughtfully in His love,

Effie Tull

Allotments Blessed

At the request of several families, brothers and sisters of all faiths and denominations gathered on July 18th, 2017, to bless allotments where construction would soon be taking place. The group (pictured above) began their work at the Muckleshoot Public Works Facility and proceeded to bless the land that will host the new Solid Waste Facility, the George Louke Allotment, Allotment 2, and Allotment 3.

At each allotment, tribal members shared prayer and songs as a sign of respect for the unwritten laws of the land. The blessings were held to cleanse and amend the land that is set to be damaged or disturbed by upcoming construction projects and to rid the land of any negative forces that may have been clinging to it. The prayers that were spoken requested protection from unexplained sickness, hatred, fighting amongst families, jealousy, drug addiction, and death in hopes of bringing love, companionship, and communal healing to these new projects.

Numerous stories were shared at each of the allotments, recounting fond memories from the past. Each participant took the opportunity to share a little bit about their family history and the ways that the land had helped them grow into the people that they are today. After the last allotment of the day had been blessed, the group made their way to the casino for a delicious lunch and continued fellowship.

If you are interested in participating in the next round of allotment blessings, keep an eye out for notifications and flyers.

The artwork being placed at the Muckleshoot Casino is a modern-day opportunity for our Muckleshoot artists to do what our people have done since time immemorial – display our point of view in a visual way for all those who enter our lands to see.

This effort was the culmination of the work and effort of many people and it's not the end of the project, but truly a beginning – the beginning of a new aesthetic, look, feel and direction for our Casino, one that recognizes and honors our Tribal lineage and culture.

In total, two images apiece by seven Muckleshoot Tribal artists' work will be represented when the project is complete. Each is truly a statement of their own experience and worldview and an example of how talented Muckleshoot people are at visually representing it through artistic vision.

Through our artists' collective voice, Muckleshoot Casino has allowed Muckleshoot culture to be truly represented by our most successful business venture, resulting in a true sense of ownership and pride. This is possible thanks to the vision of the Muckleshoot Tribal Council. Their leadership and direction helped to drive this project to completion.

Additional credit is due to the Casino team led by General Manager Conrad Granito. Without the communication and skill required to coordinate and plan this project, there is no way it would've come together.

The muralist who was hired to place the imagery on the Casino, Andy Eccleshall, is a talented artist in his own right and, as a result, was respectful and professional throughout, ensuring the artists' visions were honored and maintained.

Last but not least, the Muckleshoot artists: Bonnie Graft, Katherine Arquette-Turpen, Steve Hamilton, Keith Stevenson, Tyson Simmons and Janelle Marsette must be thanked and honored. Your vision and expression are a beautiful example of what it means to be Muckleshoot. The diversity and depth of your work is truly a resource our community can be proud of.

You have all definitely ensured that a visit to Muckleshoot Casino will always include a clear statement of Muckleshoot peoples' ownership stake in this property, and will always include a little beauty – beauty of a Native American perspective!

MEMBERS NEEDED

for Indian Child Welfare Advisory Committee

The Indian Child Welfare Act was enacted in 1978 in response to the crisis affecting Indian children, tribes and families. Very large numbers of Indian children were being separated from their families and often placed into non-Native foster and adoptive homes.

Fortunately, there are opportunities to prevent this from happening to our communities. One of them is to become a member of the Local Indian Child Welfare Advisory Committee (LICWAC) for the Department of Social and Health Services.

LICWAC meets once a month for approximately 4-5 hours with state social workers and, although they are an advisory committee, their input and recommendations are vital to each case that is staffed.

If you are interested in filing out an application and becoming a member of the LICWAC, and would like to serve on the Tacoma LICWAC please contact:

Diane Waddington, Region 3 LICWAC Coordinator

Free Legal Services for Native American Victims of Domestic Violence and Other Crimes

Northwest Justice Project's Coordinated Legal Education Assistance and Referral program (CLEAR) has new services available for Native American crime victims through the CLEAR-CV-Native American Program. An NJP attorney is available to provide advice, brief services and referrals in civil (non-criminal) legal matters stemming from the client's experience as a crime victim.

Examples of legal problems include:

- Family Law matters such as divorce, custody and protection orders involving domestic violence or sexual assault, especially when the case is in tribal court or the client believes it should be in tribal court; or when tribal court orders are not enforced.
- Health matters including denial of health care services or assistance in obtaining mental health services to deal with victimization
- Housing problems such as evictions or needing to break a lease due to a crime in the home
- Economic security issues such as medical bills, utility access and other consumer problems caused by an assault, abuse, or fraud.
- Other legal problems resulting from being a victim of crime

If you are a Native American crime victim seeking legal assistance, ask a tribal service provider or a staff member of an organization that serves Native Americans for a referral. Social services staff or tribal advocates refer clients to the CLEAR-CV-Native American program by sending a referral form.

Happy Birthday in Heaven

*Who cares for us and guides us
You can feel her love and gentleness
As she walked through life beside us
She did great things for us everyday
She whispered in our ears
She held us in her heart
When we were filled with all of our fears
She was always there to give us hugs
And to make us smile
God blessed us with an Angel
I am proud to call her ours
She's been with us as we have grown
She's guided us the best she can She's taught us like no other and we are thankful
we are the lucky ones who get to call her Mommy*
